I have really thick, shoulder length, kinky, curly hair, and am “tenderheaded” too. I made an appointment for a shampoo blow dry and flat iron. I have never met Tanner before, however she did an excellent job, and was super fast. I am already looking forward to my next appointment.

I recently went to the Vasuda salon located in Northgate. I have previously went there 2 other times and loved my experience, however, this was not the case this time. I asked the stylist to trim and barrel curl my hair. She did not seem interested in the quality of her work and even stated she was mentally "checked out" due to an upcoming trip. She used a flat iron to curl my coils, and did not ensure the roots of my hair were completely flat ironed. It took her a total of 35 minutes to wash, trim, and curl my hair - which was the shortest time it's taken anyone - even L3s. I understand that I was her last appointment, but that should not mean my experience should have been poor.

Had a great experience with Emmett and team at the North Gate location. I wanted to do a big chop, and Emmett was the perfect person for me. I appreciate how thoughtful and methodical he was and let me know what he was doing ever step of the way. The staff was really friendly, and I felt very comfortable in the space. It is clear that Emmett cares about every customers' experience at Vasuda - I would highly recommend this salon to anyone with natural hair who has been struggling to find a stylist. Thank you!

I've been a client of Vasuda for about 4 years now, and have had appointments with level 1, 2, and 3 stylists. I have always been happy with my service (usually a pretty simple cut and flat iron), though the staff can be unprofessional at times when the owners aren't around. This last appointment, I treated myself to highlights, and the usual cut and flat iron. I came in with two pictures, one showing the cut I wanted, the other showing the highlights. My hair is usually worn naturally curly so my haircuts are usually cut in the curly form then flat ironed for style. This time, the stylist cut my hair while straight and offered a touch up cut if I am not satisfied when it's curly. (Okay, I guess). When my service was complete I wasn't elated.... to have spent a pretty penny damaging my virgin hair with color that is barely noticeable is just disappointing. She went for a much more conservative tone than my request (which was already pretty conservative in my opinion) and again, I was told that I can schedule another appointment and we can add more color. I hate leaving bad reviews, but I'm sorry, I feel like a $200 service with a level 3 stylist should be a guarantee of satisfaction. If the color I wanted couldn't be achieved with one appointment it should have been communicated, however my gut is that the stylist just wasn't paying enough attention.

I was cutting quite a bit of length off of my hair to a bob style I have gone to frequently over the years - I have never been to Vasuda or seen Michelle before, but left with the best cut I have honestly ever had. She did EXACTLY what I was asking for and it has styled perfectly - and most importantly effortlessly- every time! I look forward to maintaining this cut with Michelle and will be recommending her work and Vasuda any chance I get! The hair stylists are wonderful. I've seen three different people, and they all listened to me and did a nice job with my hair. The last time I went, unfortunately, I had a problem with my appointment. To make a long story short, apparently the corporate office has no problem changing appointments without confirming it's okay with the customer. My appointment was moved by 30 minutes and by the time I found out, it was too late to make any changes. I had booked during a tiny window of time between other commitments in which I had childcare. So that 30 minutes meant I had to rearrange everything around or cancel the appointment :/ My hair really needed it, and I was able to just barely make it work, but I'm hesitant to book there again if this is how the company operates.

I booked the standard 3-hour balayge appointment. My stylist reiterated, probably 4 times, that I should have come in for a consultation, and she would not be finishing my hair because she had 2 other clients back to back after mine. I found this very unprofessional, and rude. She did not end up finishing my hair and instead passed me along to a stylist in the apprentice program, who was extremely friendly and wonderful to chat with. Overall, my hair looks pretty good, although the color is uneven and doesn't blend well in some spots. And the cost was double what it said it would be online (booked at $150; paid $300). I probably won't be coming back to this salon.

I'm new to the area and wanted to find a salon that specializes in curly hair. I found Brooke at the Tacoma location and am so happy I found such a good match. Brooke has been great to work with. She's chill, smart, kind, open and listens. What more can you ask for?! The salon and personnel are helpful and warm. I hate the parking situation but urban parking and meters are a new aggravation for me.

Danielle was fantastic!! She managed to take out a bad weave and actually saved a 360 frontal closure (much of it was matted) and created a closure when she redid my current weave!!! A plus was the massaging chair as I was getting my hair washed and conditioned!!! I definitely will be back!

Although the décor is nice, the "expert" persona was very disappointing. I am African American. The owner indicated to me and assured me that they are experts in all textures.....NOT! The Caucasian owner referred me to a Caucasian hair care person. I was reluctant but moved forward because they do have several African American operators. Wow! I have very short hair with a nice curl. She put in a relaxer timidly, did not work in through, washed it out and then trimmed it out! Absolutely did not know what she was doing. I think because the owners are a Biracial couple that they assume that their Caucasian operators are trained properly, which they are not. I speak with credibility because I am a professional model and have been exposed to the best! Black people who care about the health of their hair should think twice before going here.

Alexis is amazing as a stylist and as a person. She is knowledgeable and does what's best her clients, not what will rack up the bill. She achieved exactly what I asked for and steered me away from the service I thought I needed. This saved me a ton of money and gave me exactly what is requested. I'm now a loyal client for life!

I came in to fix a haircut I got from a different salon. I had great customer service from reception, but my hairstylist barely interacted with me. I am not looking for a full blown out conversation, but it would be nice if she would have at least introduced herself and asked me what my name was. I was also left under the hair dryer by myself for 15 minutes because "the ends of my hair were wet." I feel like this could have been mitigated by just diffusing my hair a little longer seeing as I have thinner hair. I did receive a pretty good haircut and will be returning to Vasuda, but definitely not that hairstylist.

I absolutely loved my experience at Vasuda Salon! I booked a haircut with Alexis, and after explaining shortly what I was looking for (a trim to refresh the ends of my hair; evening of some awful layers I got a long time ago from a different salon), she jumped right in and worked on my hair perfectly. She asked things to help make the experience the most comfortable it could be for me, and she informed me about the products she was using (which are awesome) but wasn't pushy about selling them like other salons have done in the past. I totally recommend this wonderful salon and know that I'll be back again when I need to trim my hair! All of the staff was fantastic and the price was wonderful, thank you so much Vasuda!

Michelle always demonstrates outstanding stylist skills in combination with being an enjoyable and sociable personality. It feels like the Vasuda team is more like a family than a set of coworkers, and I think that's great! My only gripe has always been that I would like to see an expansion of beverage options. I know all the reasons why you might not want to do that (expense being the primary one), but I do recall with fondness my memories of cocktails/wine at some salons (is that even legal?!?!?) and coffee/espresso at others. From a social/psych perspective, the current selection of available beverages results in my first response being, "no" when I come in. My understanding is that it is wise to not train your customers to say no at the beginning of a transaction. Then again, I want to emphasize that this is a small gripe. A way to make an awesome place even better. Keep up the awesome work!

Customer service was fantastic. Location was easy to find and they took walk ins. The only reason I am giving 4 stars is the cost was excessively high. I have never paid $138 for a gel mani & pedi. $15 was included for removal but still I was not expecting the total price. For the new year I paid $160 for a mani/pedi. WOW this was a first and last. I am hoping that the polish stays on really well ..... we will see.

Becca was great! And I was pleasantly surprised to receive input on my hair and answers to questions from Emmitt, the owner. My only negative was the amount of product on my hair, which made it difficult to do anything with the next day. (To be fair, I should have said something at the time. I suspected the very cute style would last during sleep time, even though I wore a silk cap and tried my best to maintain it.) So today I will probably wash my hair and reapply a much lighter dose of my own product. Hope it works!

Vasuda is always amazing! I have had the chance to work with a few stylists over the years and I have never been disappointed. They are super knowledgeable about hair. This can be hard to find for me with my thick, curly, combination-texture hair. They always make my hair look and feel great. And I know it's healthy. During my last visit with Aysah, she provide me with lots of knowledge about how to keep my hair healthy and how to keep it naturally styled. She provides me with lots of support as i work to learn about how to style my natural curls. Vasuda stands out as my favorite place I've ever had my hair done, by far. The stylists are amazing. The staff welcomes you warmly. The locations are beautiful and organized. Pricing is fair - this is amazing because I am used to getting charged extra at other places for a simple haircut because my hair is not the easiest to style. The ability to book appointments online and revive email receipts and updates if needed are super helpful. I recommend all of my family and friends go to vasuda and I will continue to do so!

I have good things to say for my first time. I felt like my stylist was professional, competent, and prepared. My experience in the chair was stress-free, which I really appreciate. I LOVE that the North location has Sunday hours - saved my life! The parking situation is a bit difficult, even for a Sunday. And unfortunately, the receptionist really didn't treat my mother - who I sent inside to check me in while I hunted for parking - quite rudely. First told her that there was no stylist by the name of Ana, when there was...and then asking my 75 year old mother (walking with a cane) if she was a delivery person. That turned me off. Fortunately, Ana came all the way through so I will overlook the tough spots. Thank you Ana, and Vasuda!

Tanner was fantastic, great personality and made the visit feel very comfortable. I was dissatisfied with the end result but I don't know if I'd say it's her fault exactly, seems like she just wasn't properly trained in doing curly hair. I came to get a blow dry and flat iron, yet my roots weren't straight and it ruined the whole purpose. I've gotten better results for less at my old salon in PA and it just seems to come down to technique. For the price I paid, I just would prefer not to have to still fix it myself at home. Here's a tip, keep in mind it's best for the stylist and the customer if you detangle the hair while conditioning.

My stylist didn't have much experience with African American hair with tighter hair curl pattern. My hair was barely combed out before washed and my so called deep conditioning only lasted 5 minuets without being put under a dryer. I was still charged for the deep condition. And the poor comb out. I was overcharged and under serviced. I am considering removing my daughter as a client. Although her stylist is better skilled than the one I was provided for my service. Never again!

The service I received was great, no complaints with that; however, they called me and left a message at 4 minutes before my appointment time to try to reschedule for 1 1/2 hours later. I was already sitting in the lobby and had checked in when my phone buzzed with this message. So the service wasn't with who it was scheduled with, but they got me in. Not sure why the mix-up to begin with considering I made the appointment online earlier in the week. Not the first time I've experienced issues with scheduling, either. Was told last week there were no appointments available when I called to book for my daughter, but there were several available online when I looked, but I couldn't book them, so I told the person scheduling that there were some online then all of a sudden she saw them too. Again, not sure what the issue is, but there definitely is one with their online scheduling.

My first experience with the salon wasn't the best. So, I was apprehensive to return. However, I made an appointment to get a free cut/style and decided to try again. After making the initial appointment, I received an email confirmation with the stylist I was intending to avoid. So, I had to call back to be put back with the stylist I had originally scheduled with. That was frustrating but I'm glad I called because Asyah is awesome!! I will be HAPPY to come back to the salon and become a regular if I can get Asyah everytime. She gave me a step-by-step of what she was doing, asked if I was okay with doing anything to my hair BEFORE doing it, was knowledgeable, courteous, patient, fun to be around (a good quality to have when someone is in the chair for awhile), and I loved the end product. I walked out of their feeling fierce and happy! I will be back and I can't wait!

Had a fine experience. My hair looks great. The other hairdressers were not necessarily friendly and the front desk never offered me water or anything like in previous visits and you were out of the product I wanted to buy but still it was a perfectly fine experience. I really hate the parking situation and had to park across the street.

More happens here than excellent hair care. I walked into the salon late, was able to listen while the manager calmly took a moment to help the receptionist solve an electronic glitch. It's a pleasure to be in an environment like that: total focus, listening, collaborating, all quality. So glad that I found Vasuda.

On Friday, I was a guest of Ms. Becca Fay. Not only did Becca give me a beautiful haircut and highlights, she took the time to make sure she listened to exactly what I wanted for my hair long-term. She paid attention to detail, and prioritized the quality of my service. Not only is Becca extremely skilled at doing hair, she spent the time to listen to me and engage me in meaningful conversation. I have my hair stylist for life!

I'm very unhappy with the haircut. The stylist while nice and professional was inexperienced with either afro-american hair, curly hair or quite possibly both. As a general rule I believe curly hair is meant to be cut while dry. This stylist cut it while dry and again while wet and continued cutting to over-compensate for some fairly glaring mistakes like the fact that she didn't know how to fade properly. I tried to stress that the cut was more important to me then the style (stylist do their best but I usually end up restyling my hair at home) when I got home I found my hair to be so many different lengths, it looked like a child cut it. It is extremely uneven. The back is very choppy. Can't pull it back. No ponytail options here. I live in Seattle. I went all the way to Tacoma because I was told I'd find a stylist experienced with afro-american hair there. This was not my experience. I called to reschedule with someone else, I was given the option to pay for another haircut. Beware, if you are not satisfied with Vasuda styling service you won't be satisfied with their customer service either. I paid $105 for the privilege of looking like my middle school year book photo. I always did wanna look youthful. Be careful what you wish for. The shampoo chair was nice though and the peppermint tea hit the spot.

Let me start by saying I came in with my hat on and left with it atop my head. I've been getting my hair relaxed since I was a wee lass and honestly I've never had such a half-assed relaxer experience. When I looked in the mirror after she was 'done' I was instantly upset and asked if she could at least flat iron my bangs a little more. I should not be better at flat ironing my hair than a professional. Not to mention my hair was severely damaged afterwards. Which to my joy before this experience has never happened at Vasuda. My hair was left dry dry dry. She shampooed my hair about four times and then left the conditioner on for a second before washing it out. The icing on the cake was my head was left with oozing sores that later turned crusty and flaked out everywhere. I will come back, but I will never use Ariana again.

Also my color didn't come out the way I wanted but it still looked good. I guess next time I will inquire about the price instead of assuming.

Normally I would give 5 stars, but this last visit I must admit that I was a bit disappointed-mainly with the person that washed my hair. It was a very underwhelming experience to say the least. I swear she never touched my scalp at all and I left with it not feeling clean. Even when she applied conditioner she didn't massage it in, just applied it to the hair and neglected the back of my hair. She was friendly and nice, but honestly, I would not want her to wash my hair again. I know of someone else who had the same experience. Other than that, the visit was great as usual!

I waited for 20 minutes past my appointment time with no explanation. I understand if someone is running behind, but it would be nice to be told that instead of just leaving me sitting. I almost left, and really wish I would have. The haircut I got is the OPPOSITE of what I asked for. I have curly hair, which was well past my shoulders, with long layers, when I went in to get a trim. It was finally getting to the length I liked and looking really pretty, after a couple years of growing it out. I said I was working on growing my hair out, and wanted the layers shaped up before I go on vacation next week. I don't know where the miscommunication occurred, but SEVERAL INCHES of my hair is gone. It is so short now that it doesn't even touch my shoulders! I can't put it in a ponytail or really do anything with it at all. It is going to take a couple years to grow it back out, and it's going to look super awkward the whole time. I hike and backpack all summer and now can't even braid it or put it in a ponytail. It just hangs in my face. I'm going on vacation next week to a place that's really humid, and I'm going to be stuck with a giant frizzball on my head. I know it's just hair and will eventually grow back, but I'm really sad, frustrated, and self-conscious now, and am dreading going to work tomorrow, and dealing with all the "why did you cut off your beautiful curls" comments throughout the day. Dreading trying to deal with this hair in the humidity on my vacation. I feel ashamed that I let this happen - how did I not notice it was being cut so short? I honestly couldn't tell when she was cutting it that it was so short, which sounds ridiculous, but it is true. I didn't say anything while I was there because I just felt in shock when I saw how short it was, and there wasn't anything that could be done to fix it anyway - its not like they could put my hair back. I just wanted to get home and assess the damage and try figure out what the heck I'm going to do to try to style it for work. I spent $30 at Bartell's on hair clips and headbands and am spending the rest of the weekend trying to figure out what to do with this hair. Argh.

I love my hair stylist. Good hair stylist are hard to come by. So is good service overall. I am not impressed with the recent service I received from the reception at the salon. Scheduling a balayage and hair cut together is not easy online. I tried call twice, left a voice message, and emailed the salon to try to schedule. Finally I just scheduled online separate appointments and hoped it didn't messed up the books for time management. Then I get a call the day before my appointment saying I need to pre pay for my service bc I had a "no show." The "no show" literally happened over a year ago and it was only due to a riot downtown that I didn't feel safe coming to that location at that time. The girl told me she would give me a pass on this one time bc it was out of my control. Also it for for a free touch up not FULL SERVICE. The next appointment I had made after that I was forced to pre pay if I wanted service. Highly irritated bc the girl I talked to said it would have no impact. Also who pre pays for a service. Fast forwarding to literally 9 months later and they call and tell me I need to pre pay again. Almost felt like cancelling my appointment because I was so pissed off even trying to make this appointment. They removed the hold and I went to my appointment and paid at the end of service. Like I said love my hair dresser but the salon itself is not high ranked right now. I have been going for years and this by far is the worse service I have received. Hair cut and color went great! Then I get to the register and the price is WAY higher than I have paid in the past. The stylist told me her prices went up and they started charging for toner. Who charges for toner without letting the customer know? That should be included in the service of getting your hair colored. Getting your hair colored is expensive enough! Then you add a separate line item for TONER! Look I love my hair stylist but the way the salon itself is going I'd recommend my stylist to find a different salon to work at because I'm not sure if I want to support a salon that can't even pick up the phone or puts in hidden costs into an already expensive service.

I've been coming to Vasuda salon for at least 5 years. I always have a good experience both inside the salon and with my stylist. I had my hair relaxed by Ariana on Saturday, July 1st. She did a great job. What wasn't great was the client who was drinking from a can wrapped in a brown paper bag during her appointment. She was loud and created an extremely unprofessional environment. I'm not comfortable being in a salon where this behavior is acceptable. The stylists at Vasuda are very talented professionals. Things are going downhill at Vasuda Belltown. I feel like I have to handhold my way through the process from making the appointment to making sure my hair is actually what I want, rather than the feeling that I am seeing an expert. This last appointment I was tossed back and forth between three different stylists to "fit me into the appointment", but I had that appointment on the books for at least 3 months. The apprentice stylists are abysmal. The remaining stylists seem overworked and like they are not paying much attention to what they're doing. This is peoples' hair! Do what you have to do to give them the best experience. Help us with our hair journey—a great deal of us come here as black women who seek expertise, not just another relaxer/box braids/weave and we'll call it a day. Provide tips and a personalized advice and experience. Step it up!

Usually I don't leave experience reviews like this (even if I've had a terrible experience). If I do, I usually write on Yelp as to warn potential customers. In this case, I'm abstaining from writing a Yelp review as I've been a long time Vasuda customer, and I'm fully aware that my recent Keratin Express treatment was out of the ordinary for Vasuda standards. Since finding Vasuda, I usually trust any and all hair stylists (AS - L3) with my hair while getting a Keratin -- not one hair stylist has ever left a poor taste in my mouth. A week ago, I had a Keratin Express and style with Kayla, and I had to re-evaluate whether or not I'd come back to Vasuda in the future. Here's why: 1) I've had many Keratin express treatments in the past few years so I'm familiar with how the process should go. Immediately, I was worried as it seemed like she didn't know what she was doing. The treatment was lazily applied in huge chunks to the ends of my hair going nowhere near the roots. In fact, the treatment was quickly applied in four huge sections of my hair. At first, I gave her the benefit of the doubt thinking this was maybe a new technique or express formula I hadn't seen. 2) For the blow out and flat iron, the lazy technique continued. In the end, my hair was flat ironed in huge sections again (as if I had naturally straight hair and just needed a cursory run through for strays). I'm biracial and don't have tight curls, but I know my hair well enough to know that it won't look even remotely straight without being flat irons at the roots. At the end, my hair was a puffy mess that was frizzing. Instead of going through it again, she layered grease on the front and sides of my head to the point where my hair was mashed to my scalp and was separated in line clumps -- it was greased back so much it looked and felt wet. I had to tell her to stop putting it in my hair several times before she stopped. In the end, I ended up having to go home blow dry the grease out of my hair, and spend an hour flat ironing it to fix my hair/my sure the keratin helped my hair stay straight. It's been about a week, and it's as though I never got the keratin treatment. My hair is just as frizzy and puffy as before. Since I get express treatments all the time, I'm very familiar with how my hair reacts to it so I'm very disappointed having spent 100 dollars to basically see no results. I love Vasuda Salon, and I've recommended several friends and family members there. That said, this experience definitely put a bad taste in my mouth, and I wanted to let y'all know as I know your quality bar is typically set higher than this.

I get my hair done at the downtown location and I love coming into the salon. The atmosphere is always nice, which I appreciate. Everyone seems to get along well and to be genuinely happy working there. That says a lot. No drama! Ariana is my stylist and she is wonderful! I've been very, very happy with the way she does my hair from the first time she styled it. I step out of the chair feeling like my hair looks beautiful and just the way I like it. She is also a nice person, which makes the whole experience pleasant for me as a client. Thank you, Emmett & Jessica, for such a well-run salon!

i love the idea of not spending 75$ on a haircut in the city. what i think you could improve on is the cleanliness of the salon. it looks dated, and the floor needs sweeping, i sat on a chair w someone else's hair in the back of the chair. yuck. i do not know if the brush's, combs etc are cleaned after each client? they came out of the drawer so ? but the younger stylist did a good job on my hair. cost 45$

It is very difficult to get an appointment at Vasuda. And if you are ever late for your appointment (even for a short 10-15min) don't waste your time showing up. You will be told they can't work you in. I understand the salon has high demand but I don't want to go to a salon that doesn't value it's repeat clients, just looks at its numbers and gives no slack when someone is running late. Had a bad experience there when i was running late from a work meeting once and vowed never to go back. Clients do have choices no matter how good a salon is!

I am so incredibly disappointed with my experience at Vasuda. I have been looking for a hairdresser who knows and understands curly hair since I moved to Seattle 4 years ago. After much research and advice from a friend I looked into Vasuda. Claiming to specialize in ethnic hair, I thought i had finally found a salon who knew what they were doing. I arrived and the receptionist was sweet and attentive. I was seen almost immediately and had a conversation with my stylist. I told her how I had been trying to grow my hair for years now, but every time I go to a salon the hairdresser cuts way more of my hair than I ask for and also explained how many stylists mistakenly cut my layers into "shelves" instead of blending them. The stylist reiterated what i said, even said, "you're just looking for a dusting and reshaping". She washed my hair first, HUGE red flag for curly headed girls and I should have left just then. Then she cut my hair just like she would have for straight hair, layering it no differently than I had had done at every other salon in this city. My hair is now a good 4' shorter than when i arrived at your salon. It takes me YEARS to grow that much length. I am so upset and frustrated by this experience. I am so confused as to how your stylists can claim to know and understand curly hair and this is the kind of cut i received. I have been to salons in California where they truly do know how to curly hair. I seriously can't say enough how frustrated and upset I am. I left with our getting my styled or even dried. I sat and watched as the stylist snipped off at least 2" of wet curls, and what do you say at that point? After the fist snip there isn't much you can do at that point.

The girl that did my daughters hair did not use quality products in her hair nor take the time and effort to get her hair the way I wanted . I could tell she didn't because I went through it myself to straighten and silken the hair for a more finished look. Luckily I bought the products from my stylist rayne who is fantastic!!!! I was able to make it better and have before and after pics to prove that she didn't do her job thoroughly. I always tip and buy a product this time I did neither I was so upset And the receptionist did not take my disappointment serious she left me at the register while she was on the phone for at least a 7 minutes before she even addressed me so I can pay and state my frustration. She kept putting her finger up to me as to say wait as if me paying and getting on my way was the least of her concern. I will continue to see my stylist but I will never send my daughter back to aria Lopez she is not sociable nor does she take the time or uses products in my child's hair to reach a satisfying result.

I've given Vasuda Downtown numerous chances, but today I am done. This is hands-down the most unprofessional hair salon I have ever been to. And I have to say that Aysha is a very unprofessional stylist. The first time I made an appointment to get my hair done by Aysha, she cancelled 15 minutes before the appointment. Yes, 15 minutes before. I excused it because we all have our days, but I should have taken it as a sign of her lack of professionalism. I scheduled with her 2 times after that, and she did an ok job on my hair, so I thought this was someone who could do the box braids I was planning to get for the summer. Aysha and I discussed the box braids I wanted TWICE. I showed her photos, I told her what date I'd made the appointment, we'd discussed length, price, and the style I wanted. We had a full-on conversation about how I was getting my hair braided for an upcoming trip to Cambodia. She knew good and well that I planned to get my hair braided June 9th. Well, this morning I called to ask what type of weave I should get for my braids. The receptionist, Taylor, says "Oh, well you need to come in for a consultation." I explained to her that I'd already done a consultation and talked at length with Aysha. She says "Ok, let me go talk to her." Taylor then comes back on the phone and says Aysha cannot do the braids because she doesn't have time to do them June 9th, but they can do a blow-out instead. Um, first, I made this appointment forever ago and Aysha and I have discussed it at length. Second, why are you offering me a blow-out when I want to get my hair braided? That makes zero sense. I told them that this is extremely unprofessional and that Aysha had full knowledge of this appointment, so if the scheduling was an issue, she should have said so when we discussed it 3 weeks ago. What if I'd shown up June 9th, weave in hand, ready to get my hair braided? Nobody (including Aysha) thought to double-check that this appointment would work out? The receptionist acted like she did not care at all, and she offered me an appointment weeks from when I was scheduled. I told her no, I made an appointment for June 9th. I need to get these braids done. Taylor says she will talk to Aysha and see what can be done. Taylor then has the nerve to call me back a couple of hours later and say that Aysha will do my hair and "complete as much as she can in the allotted time." What?! So you're basically telling me I might walk out of this appointment with my head half braided? No. I found a different stylist who, quite frankly, is likely to a better job than Aysha, and I am never going back to Vasuda again.

I took my 10 year old daughter for a haircut and we were both very pleased with the entire experience. My daughter has very thin, curly hair that breaks off easily and grows slowly and this was the first haircut she had ever had in her life despite being 10 years old! She was excited to get a stylish, short haircut but was also nervous that the style would not turn out exactly as she hoped it would. Our stylist was Alexis and she was amazing. We showed her a picture of the type of style and then my daughter described in more detail what she was hoping for. Alexis instantly got the look my daughter was going for and did a beautiful job of creating that look. My daughter is thrilled with the cut and can't wait to go back again. Everyone in the salon was friendly and the atmosphere was stylish and relaxed. We will definitely be back and I am planning on getting my hair cut there too!

Emmett styles me in such a way that makes me look younger and supports my goal of accentuating what I possess of natural beauty. My hair is a bugger to cut. I have yet to meet a hair stylist that does not comment on the wild schizoid behavior of my hair. Emmett takes this hair and work with it to transform it into a thing of beauty. Once again, as I enjoy my 3rd year at Vasuda Salon, Emmett and his bright shining crew have worked their magic! And worked it not only on my hair (which has suffered mightily through my inadvertent & incorrect ministrations) but also on my everyday interactions with people as I move through daily life. I got my hair colored with a fantastic toner (so pure it can be ingested) that has put an insane amount of new life into my whole look. At least once a day someone says "I just have to tell you I really love your hair color". After the first few comments I began to think that this new hair color is some kind of talisman, some touchstone that once glimpsed brings a surge of giddy delight, it's an authentic feel good kinda thing. Wow!!! I'm having so much fun!!! My gratitude to all at Vasuda for their profound kindness, compassion and zest for style and life!

I I submit this review in spirit of learning and growing. I have been a 2 + year customer of Vasuda. I support the company and generally and satisfied with my hair experiences. However this time they had Kayla rinse my hair and wash it and do a rough style at my request so that I can get out early. I really felt like I was at Beauty School and Kayla needed closer attention than she was given. My hair holds a lot of water and she did not ring it out nor when she was washing and rinsing did she work everything through my scalp and my hair so that my hair was tangly at the end. I don't fault Kayla. I suspect that she needs closer supervision and guidance as she learns her new profession. However, it felt like it was a beauty school experience not what I would expect at a professional salon.

I was scheduled with an L2 for my first appointment of this month. She did not know how to handle and treat my kind of hair (4A/B). She should have detangled my hair after washing it (via a wide-toothed comb) but instead, severely strained my neck as she used the blow dryer and a brush to dry my hair. I had neck pain for at least 2-3 days. Also, the hair cut she insisted was a "layered hair cut" but once it was complete, it looked nothing like the layered hair cuts I have received in the past or have seen on other people. Although this appointment was disappointing, I scheduled for another appointment the following day with an L2 (this stylist was busy so they placed me with an Assistant) and it was a far better experience than the previous day.

Hi, it's been quite awhile since my appointment (sorry, I've been meaning to post this for the longest.) First I'd like to say that the stylist that did my hair was very friendly. I also greatly appreciated her for staying late (after everyone else had left) to finish my hair. I also liked the relaxed atmosphere - how people were having casual conversation with each other while doing their clients hair. Constructive Feedback - Although I initially thought my hair turned out fairly well, I started to think different once I got home and had a chance to examine it in better lighting. - I noticed almost immediately that the "color match" to my natural hair on my crown was not a match. My natural color doesn't have any red undertones in it. I'm a natural light brown/dirty blonde with an ash tone and I'm not a fan of red at all, which is why I lean toward ash tones when I color/lighten my hair. (I even provided a photo of an ombre with the same color I was wanting.) Now that it's been a few months, the color difference is very obvious with the grow-out. Granted she was doing an ombre and had to do a color correction/cover up (of previous highlights), but it wasn't the right color. - I told the stylist that I don't like brassy/yellow blonde tones; I like more ash and wanted the ends of my hair as light as she could get it. My hair ended up being quite brassy looking at home. I was hoping my overall color would tone down a bit over time. I've resulted to over applications of purple shampoo, which helped but obviously added a grayish/purple tint to it as well. I really wish she would have shown me color swatches of what she was planning to use. If I had seen them, I definitely would have asked for different colors. The happiest I've even been with color applications has been when there's been a visual conversation and I've had a say in the colors being used. - I had her do tapered face framing, which I had to fix when I got home. 1 side was much more choppy looking with shorter pieces (cut in more) while the other side looked more wispy with longer pieces. When I took the shortest pieces from both sides and pulled them together in the middle there was easily more than an inch difference in length. If I'm able to come back I will definitely be asking for a different stylist (I might actually have to go to the Tacoma location instead cause its closer to home). I was told that this stylist was a "color pro" (and she was not an entry level stylist) but if that's the case I can't understand why you'd use color with a red undertone on a client that wants an ash result. That doesn't make sense in terms of color theory. Not trying to be harsh with my review; just want to provide true honest feedback. I would love to come back and feel confident that I can walk back out with the style I asked for. Hopefully my next review will be a higher rating. :)

I've had positive experiences at this salon before, but I was very disappointed with my last visit. I went in for a cut & style. I specifically asked the stylist not to use gel on my hair because it flaked based on my previous experience with that product. She assured me (multiple times) the combo of products she would use would not flake. Unfortunately, when I left the salon and went home, I noticed my hair was white! The products she used flaked worse than the gel, and I had to wash my hair a few hrs. after getting it done. To make matters worse, I noticed a few days later while styling my hair that she also gave me an uneven cut. Unfortunately, I played phone tag with the salon Mgr. She initially left a message, but after multiple attempts of trying to reach her or anyone else to resolve the matter, I'm giving up!

The salon is lovely but laidback. Emmett, the owner, is a terrific stylist but he also listens very well and is not overbearing with his recommendations. He gave me a much-needed, updated style which I love. He clearly understands curly, natural hair and how to work with it. No "hard-sell" to buy hair products and the offer of a free four-week touch-up trim is a uniquely generous offer. Everyone working there was friendly and seemed happy. I will definitely be a regular!

I loved everything about it. I was greeted with a smile, offered a beverage and my stylist came right out to meet me and take me back to her chair. She did an awesome job and I didn't touch my hair with a comb, flat iron or anything else for a week. Seriously. I'm an African American woman, with hair that isn't the least bit oily, so I only have to wash my hair once ever 7-10 days. I came there on Wednesday, left for NY on Friday, shot videos for 3 days, and didn't put a comb to my hair until the next Friday when I worked out. It was perfect and I'm going back this Wednesday. The salon is beautiful and the prices are excellent. The same service would have cost twice as much in LA.

My stylist Kristie was friendly, but seemed to not be knowledgeable in how to apply a chemical relaxer. Now I'll have a demarcation line in my head from my hair not being relaxed properly and my scalp is burnt and oozing. Also the blow out was bad, because my hair was still damp. Even sectioning the hair for styling was botched...during the whole process from start to finish my hair was sectioned in 4 (line down the middle and across the crown), this is fine for the application process, but for the blowout those lines should have been removed and for styling I should have been asked where do I want my part and proceed as such. When I left my hair smelled burnt, I had a stubborn line running down the middle of my head, despite the side part that I asked her to put in after I realized she wasn't going to ask and my scalp hurt. I got home and rewashed my hair, put some strengthening treatment in and restyled it. I mentioned to the person I made the appointment with (Felicia) that I'm a hairstylist and have been for many years, so expected to be booked with someone with more experience in doing a chemical relaxer. This service wasn't worth the $100 that I paid.

Solid place. They know hair. It's not completely smooth sailing, though, and I do wish they'd tighten up their customer service a bit. There are a lot of new stylists/ interns who run the joint and they cannot be expected to carry the weight as much as they are. Otherwise, I am so glad I found this place and would certainly recommend to others who are in the market for a reliable black hair salon.

I was so so happy to have another opportunity to visit the beautiful people at Vasuda Salon and have a haircut from the amazing maestro himself, Emmett Henley. My experiences with him as a stylist have shown me that even after a near lifetime of poor styling and cuts, it's still possible to finally have someone who not only has a deep understanding of curly wavy hair but is able to make it do it's absolute best. My cuts from Emmett give me real joy. They're super cute, super easy to care for, and I always get lots of compliments. Let me tell you that at 68 yrs of age it's really nice to get compliments on my hair! I am very very grateful to Emmett and Jessica for their visionary salon/workplace. The young people who work for them are obviously cherished and obviously are thriving in such a compassionate and well educated and supported environment. You won't find a better crew, not anywhere.

Tanner is always great, and I love the salon itself. I got a layered curly trim, a bleach, and four fashion colors. The minute I walked out onto the street and into my local coffee house I started getting compliments. That was my second time there and I'll definitely stick with Tanner, though I've seen some great stuff walk out from the other stylists. All are also very sweet.

Shelby was amazing and my hair is beautiful! Going to find out how it looks curly today! I did have one issue though..when I made my appointment they say the 25% off coupon I had would be automatically applied and I when I paid it was less than she said it would be so I was happy. I just saw my receipt and there wasn't an applied discount... is there any way to issue a partial refund?

Service was incredible by all means. Unfortunately after taking some time, I don't think Shelby got what I was trying to achieve. I wanted a subtle balayage/highlight look, but left with an ombré. I also wanted a more muted tone instead of the vibrant blue (it may have looked better if it was just accented). Product suggestions would have also been nice since most of my hair went through so much processing. Other than that, she did a great job trimming my ends.

Haircut felt rushed. Agreed upon hair length when hair was dry, but she cut it that short when wet which resulted in my hair shorter than I wanted it to be. This is important because if my hair is too short it is a lot harder to manage. Did not feel like the haircut was worth even half of what I paid.

I rate my experience with Ali as being excellent! She is really friendly, and she actually listened to my opinion and took my wants/needs into consideration. She went out of her way to make me feel like she cared about my satisfaction. I loved the way she did my hair, and I plan to continue booking appointments with her in the future. My experience with Vasuda Downtown as a whole has been just ok... My only flat-out bad experience was with Arianna. I had a sew-in weave at the time, and I'd called beforehand to warn that my hair would take a very long time to dry. Any stylist with experience with sew-ins knows that you have to sit under the dryer for a good 2 hours, and if you don't dry it fully, the braids can get moldy. The receptionist spoke with Arianna, and apparently Arianna said she would take "as long as needed" to do my hair. Well, despite my warning about the time it took, Arianna rushed me through the appointment by trying to blow-dry my hair. Another stylist suggested she take me to sit under the hair dryer in the back, and she did, but after only 30 minutes under the dryer she came back and tried to blow-dry it again. I kept saying, "It takes a long time under the hair dryer" and "It's very important that the braids get fully dry so they don't grow mold," but she basically ignored me and just blow-dried it anyway. I ended up leaving with the braids under my sew-in still wet, and I had to finish drying it when I got home. If I have to finish my hair when I get home, that is not ok in my opinion. I think more training on properly washing & styling sew-in weaves and listening to the needs of her customers would be helpful.

I've been coming to this Vasuda since 2012 and have almost had a near perfect experiences. All the stylists I've met have been personable, competent and engaging. But this time, I was scheduled with a stylist that I had never met before. Although I arrived early for the appt, she was 15 mins late, from our schedule time at 1:30 (so I was waiting almost 30 mins). When she completed with her previous client, she did not come directly over to me, she actually turned and went the other way. That's when I told the reception that if I can't get started soon, I'm going to have to leave. She went and got the stylist. Aside from introducing herself and confirming what I wanted done, she made no further conversation with me. She just worked on my hair, in complete silence. That would not have been a problem, except this was my first time with her. I even tried to engage her by asking how long had she been at Vasuda? She answered: 3 years. And that was it. She did a nice job. My hair looked good. I would have rated this much higher - but this was clearly a difference experience that I've ever had at Vasuda. And I won't be requesting her again.

Hands down my favorite haircut I've had in Seattle! Michelle listened and exceeded my expectations with the cut and color. I will be back and will send others! My only feedback is to add neck padding to the hair washing sinks. Having to 'hang out' there for 10 minutes while the toner did it's thing sent me to the chiropractor the next day. Perhaps there's another way for clients to marinate other than stay stuck in the sink. However, this will not prevent me from returning! I Love my hair! Thank you!

Shelby was recommended to me by a co-worker who has totally enviable hair. Stylists always want to give me a LOAD of layers, which I'm not a big fan of. Shelby listened, explained everything she was planning on doing, and now that I've washed and styled my hair myself it's exactly what I asked for (which isn't saying it didn't look great coming out of the salon, but rather often you can't recreate that look once you've left the building). Highly recommended.

Emmett is quite simply the very best. Where would all the curly girls be without him? And the salon vibe is so chill and welcoming for people of all ages, colors and walks of life. In this salon, getting beautiful is as easy as making an appointment and showing up...not intimidating in the least bit. At least that has been the experience of this 62 year old who would rather go without food than go without my keratin relaxing treatment.

I recently moved to town and I've had a hard time finding a hair salon that can work with my hair whether it's curly or straight. I've heard about this salon through friends and finally decided to try it out, and I CANT BELIEVE I WAITED SO LONG and wasted money going anywhere else. I was lucky enough to get an appointment with Emmett who explained the whole process to me and walked me through it as he was cutting and styling my hair. I left the salon with my hair feeling and looking better than it has in YEARS. I already can't wait to go back!

Shelby is SO great to work with! I've changed my plan with my hair drastically and she just teases me and then does just what I want. This is SO important in a stylist! Great color, great cut, even better style (whether curly or straight), and I love the atmosphere in your salon! It's relaxed, upbeat, friendly and NOT snobbish like so many other salons. Please keep it this way. As I waited for my foil to do it's thing I LOVED hearing the stylists all laughing together in the back. Happy employees make for happy customers!

I have been battling illness and I told the stylist I wanted a fun short haircut. She messed up so bad I had to come back the next night and have it fixed. Stylist were telling me she saw what she was doing, and thought it looked weird. I still was not statisfied with my haircut and ended up just cutting it all off myself, simply because I have been to ill to come back/did not want to pay for another haircut. In the year since I've been going, this has been my only bad experience, unfortunately it came at a time when I am not well. Hopefully the next experience is better.

Linda is amazing! My first time going to her and Ill admit I was nervous (who isn't when going to a new stylist), especially with a color and cut, but she was awesome! Answered all of my annoying questions, was efficient but still took the time she needed, was fun to talk to, and has a unique eye. I was worried about how the color ended up, and she scheduled me for a complimentary touch up later to make sure I was happy with my hair. I ended up canceling because I realized how perfect for my skin tone the color she chose was. It went better than I expected and she gave me great tips on how to maintain healthy curls. I'll definitely be back to see her!

Wish I could put 10 stars! My stylist was fantastic! He is clearly a scientist of hair! I have just grown out my natural hair after not relaxing it for 1.5 years. I had no idea how to style my hair and he took his time to show me how to make my hair look fab with just a few easy steps! He also showed me which products to use, which were available at Vasuda, but he repeatedly let me know that I don't need to feel pressured to buy them there. Fast forward 24 hours later I have received innumerable compliments on my hair and I feel very confident in styling it myself. Worth every penny!

Emmett went above and beyond in answering many questions and then also the more scientific explanations towards my hair color questions. However, I became concerned when I realized he had booked 3 other clients that would all overlap a bit with each other's appointment, which I think resulted in potential for a longer than normal hair processing. Part of the reason for the multitude of appointments was that they had to cancel my prior appointments at the last minute due to their fault which they then tried to accommodate me in by having me come in earlier on a day that seemed to be an already very full morning for Emmett. While I appreciate the effort to try and make their scheduling mistake right, I am a bit worried about whether the end color result of my hair will indeed be what I wanted.

Hair stylist was super nice and made me feel assured, however in actuality I don't believe she understood what she was doing. When she "finished", I thought she was joking. I was just diagnosed with breast cancer on Nov 17. I have a lot going on and lots of things to do, to think about, to plan to everything. I start my first round of chemo tomorrow. I thought to just go ahead and get a buzz cut so I don't have to deal with my hair and perhaps less to fall out. Who knows! I just happen to call Friday as I was heading to my Dr. Appt. I got Felicia on the phone. She was just so nice and just happen to share a personal story to me. Right then and there I knew this place and she were special. She was able to get me in Saturday morning. I get there and this was the first thing to do on my things to do list. I get there and we talked and she listened. She was such a wise person. Loved her. I then met Emmett and then Shavonne, who cut my hair. She was just so nice. I ran my mouth off about my past twelve months of my live. Oh my! But everyone was nice and they listened and cared. My hair cut was fantastic. She went over how I should take care of it and what steps I need to do and suggested which products and was kind enough to write it all down. It was the best hair experience I ever had with regard to going to a salon. I've always walked past but never went in. Was curious but never went in. I'm glad I picked up the phone. I will for sure get in there when I can and will recommend this shop to anyone that I know. A hidden gem just a short walk from me.

This is the second time I've left with the same thought. I chose your salon because they say they know curly hair (biracial, long hair), I get a stylist with straight hair and ask if they are sure about curly hair. I leave with too much length taken off. I tried both times to be clear that just because my dead ends are only a few inches they can't take them all because that that is a LOT of length when talking about very tight curls. I just haven't found the right stylist but I think I'm done looking here. Everyone was lovely and nice and convinced me that my hair looked "great" when I left but the results still aren't what I was expecting.

Why can't we simply call the salon we'd like to set up an appointment with, or speak to my salon person with a question, or did I leave my wallet there? Stupid, stupid, stupid way to have communication with your clients.

Unfortunately I did not get the service I requested. I came in for a touch up relaxer and When I questioned why Alexis was going to rinse me as soon as she finished putting the product in (and without any smoothing of the roots by either finger or comb) she described that she was doing a texturizing. I had not heard of this term ever applied to my hair, but she described it as a way to loosen the curl but not straighten the curl. I was upset about this because I have been getting touch up relaxers every 12 weeks for at least 20 years. She did see that I wear my hair curly (product in to define the curl then diffused dry. Not blowndout or ironed straight) and expressed her concern that since a relaxer straightens the hair, there would be a band of straight hair (the roots) that would grow down the hair and be different from the natural hair coming in. I explained that I always left the salon (Diversity Salon) with stick straight roots (left on 15-20 minutes and smoothed thoroughly with the stylist's fingers) and it never resulted in any awkward line of demarcation between textures. My hair has never been straight without the heat appliances and I've never been fearful that my relaxed curl wouldn't be there. Since I go 12 weeks before services, my hair has a "cycle": the first 3 weeks the roots are very straight and as a result I lack the volume in my overall hairdo that I crave. At about 3-8 weeks the roots emerge and the hair is at its best, with the curl holding its shape, frizz minimized and lots of volume. By weeks 8-12 I'm waiting impatiently for my next service, because the bulk takes over and my haircut is less evident and it's more frizzy, forcing me to wet and restyle it more often. The straight roots are important so I can go the full 12 weeks between services For the health or my hair and for my pocketbook. Unfortunately the texurizer I got (and did not want or request) has yielded me "week 6" hair, that will not go anywhere near the 12 weeks to my next service. My hair looks good, but in 2-3 weeks, the bulk will be overwhelming and I will have to live with that until 12 weeks has past. I was also upset that I felt the stylist was rushed. I understand that this service comes with a trim and a style. I requested neither, so my stylist should not have seemed so rushed during the relaxing portion. It made me uncomfortable especially since I felt she didn't listen to me about my hair (this was my first relaxer with you). Other than that, I thought Felicia at the front desk was a delight!

You think it's near impossible to get in & out a salon in 40 mins, and leave looking like you've been in for hours of full service. Well, it was proven otherwise at my last visit, when a work event happened upon me, I reached out to Linda, to see if she had any availability for a styling finish the following day and luckily she had a little window, but it was a tight one! When I arrived, she had an apprentice setting things up. I wasn't sure what to expect with the time constraints. There was even more pressure when I found myself under the dryer and wondered if I would be out the door looking rushed especially since time management has been a concern as is a working progress. With 20 mins left, after the dryer, Linda did her magic! She styled me effortlessly and better yet I was completely out the door with 10 mins to spare. Thanks heaps, Linda!!

I was a first time client last Thursday at 12pm. I called the week before and requested a deep condition, trim, and shape up specifically from a stylist who was very experienced with natural Black hair, as I have curly 4C hair. I was scheduled for 10am with Linda, and then 24hrs before got a "confirmation" call with a different time (12pm) and different stylist (Shelby) than originally set. I missed the call on the day and called back the morning of to ask why the change, and was not really given a clear answer by the manager/owner Jessica on the phone, but was assured that Shelby would be fine and then after some consideration she said that Alexis would actually be a better match. I showed up for my appointment and discussed my options with Alexis (I was considering a simple flat twist protective style) but decided to go with the original trim and shape up and wear it out curly. I could tell that Alexis was not confident with my texture and when I asked her about her experience with natural cuts she admitted that her strength is in straightening services and she has only been at the salon for a few months. Because she was not confident about trimming/shaping my hair, she called over another stylist (who did not introduce herself to me so I never got her name) to do the cut. She started cutting it wet even though I told her that I usually get it blown out to cut because I just wanted the dead ends trimmed and my hair to be evened out. She insisted that cutting curly is the way to go. She ended up cutting the nape and sides far shorter than I wanted and then told Alexis to blow out the top to finish the cut. The result is the opposite of the gradual taper cut that I showed her in my picture. The super short sides, then the sudden shelf of longer hair in the middle and on top, the still uneven bits, and a hole on the left side that she tried to hide with styling, all amount to a shape that I am embarrassed to wear out but I just haven't had the time to visit another salon. It is just awful and I can't believe that I spent $90 on it. The second stylist was rude, didn't listen to my concerns, and didn't bother offering to fix it after she could see how disappointed I was in the final product. Alexis was at least apologetic and attempted to comfort me. I am just so incredibly disappointed. I had heard good things about Vasuda but my experience with your staff was terrible.

My hair stylist was great but my phone conversation with the assistant manager prior to appointment was very disappointing. I have been going to the salon for about 2 years and have referred several people to the salon. I was counting to get a 20% that I was given due to a bad experience I had about 3 months ago. I happen to speak to the assistant manager to confirm my appointment and to make sure that I was getting the discount. She quickly replied that she does not see it on the computer that I will not get the discount. I tried to explain to her the situation I had but she failed to even give me a chance to finish talking. I could of overlooked this minor mistake but her lack of customer service was very clear. I really hope that this does not happen to another customer. As for me, It is the second time I have had a bad experience and I have decided to start going to another salon.

I'm into my second round of hair art, some really cool undercut work that Emmett put into my cut and it's just so much fun! Just when I thought my good looking hair days were long gone, he's revitalized my style in ways I couldn't even dream of. In all my 68 years of haircuts (well 67 because I didn't have hair till I was a year old) I've honestly never had anyone who could handle wavy/curly hair so phenomenally well. First off, My stylist Ariana did not talk the whole appointment besides telling me where to go. She also didn't ask how the water temperature was while shampooing so my shampoo was done with freezing cold water. While flat ironing my hair, she didn't catch my edges and half way through flat ironing my hair she started blow drying it again! In short, I AM NEVER GOING BACK TO HER AGAIN. I had another appointment which was a braiding consultation with Aysha which I made over the phone that confirmed that she specifically did box braids. . She called me over while she was doing someone else's hair, didn't make eye contact with me the whole time and as soon as i told her I was interested in box braids she said "I dont do those anymore, they take too long" and started trying to push me to get crochet braids. She didn't even offer to refer me to someone that does box braids. I was very disappointed with this since I drove five hours from eastern Washington to come to vasuda and I do this once a month. I purposefully made a braiding consultation because I wanted box braids done next time I'm in town before I start traveling. I've spent hundreds of dollars at vasuda and have been going there for years, but after this appointment, I'm considering NEVER going back again.

My haircut person was great of Course. However your prices for a "haircut" are ridiculous. I will never pay $50 for a haircut, I don't want to pay $40 or even $30, you don't have the proper equipment on site-I went with hair down my neck and shirt, then had to stop back at home to clean my neck and my collar, because you lack the tools for the stylist to do a proper Job. My stylist was 10 minutes late for my appointment. She used her nails when shampooing my hair. I think she placed conditioner on my hair and immediately rinsed it out. I have never had conditioner on my hair for 30 seconds. She didn't explain and didn't tell me which products she was using. The hair cut was very fast and the flat iron was also very quick. I have African American hair and have gotten many terrible haircuts from people in the past, even people who claimed to know how to cut curly hair. I was recommended to go see Celeste at Vasuda. This was the best decision I have ever made for my hair! It was such a relaxing experience and Celeste knows how to cut curly hair. My hair has never looked better. I got great advice on how to keep my hair healthy and product recommendations. Everyone loves my new hair color. I would recommend anyone with curly hair to go to Vasuda Salon and get it cut because they said they love cutting curly hair and they can do it perfectly.

Loving my new haircut! I am so happy I found this salon! I need a great haircut to take full advantage of my natural wave / curl. I had a couple bad cuts that left my hair flat and me sad. I did an online search and Vasuda Salon was highly rated for their expertise with curly hair, so I thought 'what the heck, give it a try', and I am so happy that I did! Tanner is personable and very skilled. In my future, I see many good hair days! Thanks Tanner! Jennifer

Hi, This is the second consecutive time where I have been left very disappointed. After my very first hair cut appointment where I had a pretty good experience, I have opted for Vasuda for hair coloring, I booked a single process color and post coloring my stylist (Emily) mentioned that I haven't booked for Styling and accommodate my request to quickly fix up an appointment. The second hair stylist took over and all he did was drying up my hair. Post that my hair looked very frizzy and dry, and I have been charged in full for styling. I again booked my appointment on Friday (08/16) with Emily for Hair Coloring and Styling. I wanted to change my color. My stylist did try to wash out previous hair color but after several attempt we were not able to remove the color and I suggested we try it some other time and stick to my natural color. She did a root touch up and did styling for curls. Now my hair is very dry, frizzy and sticky, it doesn't feel like worth $100 of process. There is absolutely no volume and my hair looks life less. How can we fix this? Very unsatisfied customer.

I usually like to see Alexis, she's so sweet and listens to everything you say and does her best to accomdate your needs! I saw a different stylist because I really needed a keratin done because of how tangled my hair was already after 2 months. I told her I had a tender scalp, yet she kept running and ripping through my hair which I'm sure a lot got broken or ripped out. I paid 150 dollars more to see her than to see Alexis. I was really disappointed, and my scalp hurt the rest of the day. My hair is already thin enough, I don't need someone ripping it out. I still tipped her well..figured it was the right thing to do since she was having such a miserable day. I'll be sure to wait only for Alexis next time.

No coffee to provide for customers:(. Come on its Seattle. Also, no sugar or cream for tea. Really? Also the girls should focus more on the customers hair than on their own or talking about their hair with each other. Talk to the clients!!!! We are here probably only a few times a year and you have all the time in the world to talk and fiddle with your hair.

Emmett is the best! He was the only person I trusted to style my hair for my wedding day. It came out perfectly and because he sewed the style in rather than using 1000000 Bobby pins it stayed perfectly the entire 16 hours I had it in. After my wedding I wanted to make use of the hair extensions that I had put in for the wedding to do something crazy so I came back and Emmett did oil slick highlights by putting streaks of blue, purple, green and teal throughout my very dark brown hair. This was a massive project which again I wouldn't have trusted to anyone else but Emmett. I haven't done much coloring of my hair and so I was worried about damage from lightening the hair. Emmett used Olaplex in both my hair and the extensions and the hair came out as healthy looking as can be even after lightening it quite a bit before putting the bright color in. The color stayed vibrant for over 2 months and after that faded to a more pastel version of the colors which still looked great. I just came in to brighten up the colors and it looks amazing. I have never gotten so many compliments on my hair. Thank you Emmett!!!!

Before I start, I will in part take responsibility for not playing a more vocal role. The website implies that anyone at the salons can knowledgeably handle kinky, curly, black type hair. My hair is big, voluminous, (was) long and relatively healthy. I am apprehensive about just letting anyone cut my hair and so I trusted the stylist and salon. I came in with some photos wanting to get my bad ends trimmed and get more of a shape. The stylist was rough while pulling my hair apart. She barely looked at the photos and was not very personable/communicative. It appeared she had a long day and wanted to leave. I wish she would have involved me in the process more, that is where I take responsibility for not speaking up. I just didn't think I would have to tell her how to do my hair. In the end she didnt give me the look i wanted. I came in wanting more of the top cut and she cut A LOT of length from the lower part of my head, barely touching the top. I've since washed and styled my hair to get a better understanding of the cut and it is really all over the place and very uneven. I have strands that are 4in shorter and some that are my original length. Moreover, she used a product on my hair that she had never used before. I certainly do not appreciate being a product guinea pig. Very disappointed in the experience.

My haircut seemed fine the first day but the next day I noticed my hair is about half an inch longer on one side than the other. I can even tell it's lop sided wearing my hair curly. Really disappointing that Lenny didn't notice that on his own because it really is a huge difference. I will be coming in for my trim soon now to get it fixed but I don't think I want to go with Lenny this time. Really disappointing after coming here for over a year. I honestly don't think I've been impressed at all and will be looking for another salon. Sorry.

Finding the right stylist is hard enough,so wasn't surprised that my third visit with Linda would take a while to schedule.She is good at what she does. Showed her any style and she makes it better! With that said, I'm conflicted because although the outcome of my look was excellent, the experience was just okay. I arrived early and Linda decided to start prepping me because her client before me was tardy and very nonchalant about it. This later led to it taking away time from my appointment. While waiting, it was visibly apparently other stylists seemed to wonder why I was sitting on the prep chair for that long without attention.Though I ended up the last customer, my stay run longer than I anticipated putting me behind on seeing to other commitments.As I liked my new do, the excitement faded because of that.

I had a great experience. Asyah did a spectacular job on my braids and was extremely friendly. I would recommend her to anyone. As a first time client, she made me feel welcome and comfortable. When my hair was washed it felt great and the blow dry and detangle after wasn't painful at all (as it has been for me at other places in the past). I will be coming back for more braiding and I plan on getting a haircut at some point in the future as well.

I didn't like my experience this time at Vasuda. I was promised to have the same hair coloring and cut as I always have had for the past two years. I asked the new hairdresser to follow exactly what was written in my records in regards to color etc, and he didn't pay attention to it. He chose a complete different color and did the highlights in a way I didn't like it at all. The cashier asked me to pay $250 for partial lights and cut. 4 months earlier I had exactly the same cut and color for $160. As I asked her why was this price so high, she couldn't answer why. She said the new hairdressers where of a higher level that the past I had, etc.. which she couldn't verify. After "re-checking" my bill I was asked to pay $175. I don't like places where the prices are not set from the beginning, so they try to charge you whatever they can and see if you can fall into the trap.

Let me start by saying I've always gotten good to great haircuts here. But recently I decided to treat myself to a color for my birthday. I went into it naively, not thinking to ask for a consult. And no consult was offered. The day of the color was applied and it was SUPER lackluster and nothing close to what I wanted. I was advised to wait until I go home and see if I liked it once I was dried. Well I didn't and requested it get fixed. But get this, now that it had been colored I was told I needed a color correction and the new dye job would cost me $240, and I'd only get partial credit for the initial crap hair dye. Are you serious? I paid for something I didn't get and yet you'd ask me to pay again to get what I thought I was getting in the first place? No thanks. It felt even worse that I was told "in the spirit of good customer service" they would only credit me the cost of the initial hair color ($85) towards it getting fixed. So if you go for a dye job CONSULT, CONSULT, CONSULT. Now I'm out $85 and a salon because I can't with good conscience go back.

My hair had been dry and frizzy for some time and no stylist anywhere (for any price) was able to deal with it. But Jenn got it into better shape than it had been for several years, told me which products she used, and encouraged me to research the products on my own rather than pushing a sale from the salon. The maintenance has been a learning curve, but it continues to improve, and my hair looks soooo much better now. I am looking forward to my next appointment with Jenn.

I was actually quite appalled at the service I received at Vasuda. I had an appointment 2 days prior, and also put in the notes I would like a rod set. Upon entering everything was fine. I ran into Emily who is always awesome. I sat down with a Stylist named Livia. I set up this appointment. Event Styling/Roller Set session at Downtown Vasuda Salon 2201 4th Avenue 101 Seattle WA 98121. She begins by asking what I want I tell her roller set, wet, and the dryer. She tried to get me to get it straightened and blown out and then sit. That is not what I wanted, I like my hair curly. She said all was fine and began rolling. The appointment was scheduled for 1.5 hours. She was saying how long it may take to dry, but I have never stayed under the dryer for more than an hour..I have my own at home. All the while I am listening to her complain about everyone, so unprofessional. "Our bosses left a few girls that quit paychecks at a gas station, I don't know why they are even doing that, its stupid" amongst the list of disrespectful comments. It had been about 1.5 hours when I was going under the dryer. 2.5 hours go by half of the rollers were not under the dryer I had to tell her to condense the roller so I could fit, I was going to the Beyoncé concert and time was quickly passing. I kept setting my own timer on the dryer, bending and moving the rollers etc. I finally asked another girl to ask her to check on me. I asked can she see where the progress was, as I needed to go. She kept saying I am not dry but she could take them out. Obviously I wanted the service I came in for and NOT the service I was getting. I needed to hurry so I was like yes lets take them out and they were dry, shapeless, still very damp dry, and I was over it. her attitude was terrible. When I commented that they were not what I was used to. She said "You were not on my books I made time for you" I assured her I set an appointment she began saying, " you are rude and welcome to leave" I asked how I was rude, but didn't even care to wait for the answer....AND SHE IS A LEVEL 3. She needs an attitude adjustment. I almost went completely off on her classless personality until I realized. I really like Emily, and I will not disrespect the Salon by playing into this drama especially since the owners were away at the time. I feel you should also know that the music there that day was full of explicit lyrics and several inappropriate songs were played.

I would recommend Vasuda to anyone, but especially for children with very curly hair who need a patient, understanding stylist.

This was my 3rd visit, and 3rd stylist. I had originally scheduled with someone who left, Erica, I believe. The salon called and said I could see Brooke for the same day and time originally scheduled. I felt awkward because I saw Linda there, and she did my hair last. It was over 2 months ago when I made the appointment, but I think I chose another stylist because Linda wasn't available for an early morning appointment. So, I just hope if she remembered me that she didn't think anything of it. Brooke was excellent. She did an amazing job with my relaxer touch up and keratin express. She was also very friendly and professional. I look forward to seeing her again in 8 weeks.

I don't understand if I see the importance of being on time why my stylist D at Northgate is ALWAYS running late and doesn't seem to care or even apologize for making me wait 15 min for my appointment EVERY SINGLE TIME!!!! I feel if there was less dancing around the salon and playing around with coworkers then maybe she could stay on time and not make her clients wait.

I had a fantastic experience with Shelby. I've been a committed Vasuda salon client since 2013, working with a variety of stylists from all three Vasuda locations. Always had great service. Shelby was positive and extremely helpful. I'm very indecisive / open minded, which I know can be frustrating when I give little direction. But she was very informative offering her recommendations and working together to find the right look. I just got a trim to clean up the shape of my hair and an easy up-do for my formal event that evening. It looked great and I was in and out in 40 minutes looking fabulous! Thanks Vasuda for always taking such great care of my curly hair!

My coloring appointment with Shelby was fantastic! She is very friendly and extremely helpful when suggesting hair care products that are suitable for my natural hair care needs. The salon has massaging chairs at their wash bowls that were very relaxing--- nice and surprising touch. They also give military discounts. I 'll be back.

I would have given a five star review but I giving due to being over charged at my last visit. My stylist is great and the desk staff are usually friendly but sometimes tend to over charge for services that were not done. I don't know if it is that they get too wrapped up in conversation, not paying attention or just forgetting to ask the stylist what services their client have received. I went in to get color and was charged for color and cut. I should have said something but I was in a hurry and did not want to make a scene. Now I am questioning rather or not to go back which is unfortunate because I really like the stylist I go to but the front desk staff I making question should I return and if I do will I be over charged again.

The stylist was really rough. I'm not tender headed, I've had kinky hair my whole life. She didn't comb my 4c/d hair out after washing it and went straight to blow drying. At one point I asked her if I could comb my hair out because I was hurting...the stylist said she would comb it out. I shouldn't have had to say that, and my head was still sore afterward. She was combing my hair from the root until I said something. Going to the salon is a treat for me. I want to experience being pampered and getting service I can't do on my own. This visit it was clear how little the stylist cared, I didn't feel pampered. This was maybe my 7th visit to Vasuda & this experience changed how I feel about the salon, the stylist I went to was a Level 3 stylist.

After procrastinating for several years on changing my hair, specifically, going through with the big chop and the feat of finding a good salon with stylists that know what they are doing and reasonably priced, I stumbled upon Vasuda. I knew this would be the ideal place. Though it took me a year, I finally made an appt for a consult with Erica initially. She then recommended, Linda to see to my hair transformation. I was at first unsure at first, after the big chop whether to stay natural or texturize. I returned 2 weeks later as requested to complete my look and I was pleased with the result: a very versatile pixie! Overall a good experience. will return and recommend.

When visiting the salon in Seattle, it appears that many of the staff are condescending in their demeanor.. Livia in particular is one of the reasons I prefer not to visit the downtown location any longer. Her attitude and air are less than pleasant when I visit downtown. I have no idea why this person has a problem with me, but the only way that I can register my discontent is to not spend my money at that location. If you check your receipts under my account, I have spent a lot of money between Seattle and Tacoma since last year September. If you are in the service business, it would seem that service and a pleasant, inviting environment should be your goal. I am not comfortable each time I leave the Downtown Seattle location and because of that I have decided just to not return there. Talk about the Seattle Freeze, Vasuda is a prime example of it. So since some of your operators feel that they can be rude to customers, I will not return to your Downtown Salon location. A positive note though, Celeste is a wonderful person and does a great job- I will miss her services.

I've had a few balayages done at other salons, and when I came in to get my hair balayaged at the Northgate Salon, things felt a little chaotic. My stylist didnt have the right equipment to best perform the balayage, and everything felt very rushed (even though it was about a three hour process) and disorganized Upon coming home and styling my hair myself, I felt my hair came out streaky, which I have never experienced when getting my hair colored in this fashion before. I will probably have to book another appt elsewhere to have my hair fixed before my trip. I will say, that although I am not too happy about the color, the staff was very friendly.

I had another fantastic hair cut/styling from the Master of Style and Cut Emmett Henley. He takes me to different looks and although it takes me a wee bit to get comfortable with the style, in the end I'm always pleased as punch to have such a thoughtfully done do. When it comes to working with curly wavy hair Emmett just doesn't put a foot wrong. It's truly liberating to work with a stylist as sensitive and skilled as Emmett. He gets me looking my best with so little effort! I have so much fun with the styles he comes up with for me!! I'm not afraid of my hair getting ruined through lack of knowledge of how to cut/style my hair (wavy, curly and with about 10 cowlicks). And now Emmett and wife Jessica are training all their stylists to know how to do this. Wow!!! I promise you that you can dismiss any doubts whatsoever from your mind. Go to Vasuda Salon for the style of your life!

I liked the partial highlights I got from Livia but really don't like the policy that you have to pay extra to have your hair styled after. I paid 30.00 extra for a mediocre flat iron (from a different stylist). I have been to many salons and have never had to pay extra in order to leave looking good. It's not like the cost for highlighting is lower to compensate. That marred an otherwise positive experience.

My daughter and I both received top notch service from the moment we walked in the door. My daughter has naturally very curly hair, which is beautiful, but of course she wants straight hair, so she received a Keratin Express treatment with Livia. I had a relaxer touch up and a Keratin Express treatment with Linda. My questions were answered thoroughly, and no products were pushed on me. But, I was asked if I needed any products or recommendations, which was good. Unfortunately, I booked our appointments at two different locations by mistake, but the salon called me the day before and worked this out for us. I was very appreciative of this because of a tight schedule and my daughter was excited to have her early birthday present.

★☆☆☆☆ by Hodo Hussein on 2016-03-23

I went in for a haircut and a single process color. I was told in order to get the look I wanted I would have to do a double process. I said okay and went along with it because I am not a professional stylist and obviously I valued the stylist's professional opinion. My hair was bleached, colored and then cut. The color did not turn out the way I had wanted. It was red/orange instead of caramel brown. I let the stylist know, she offered to fix it. I came in a second time to have her correct the color. She colored it, and said that nothing had changed in the color, instead of letting me know of the damage, she then said she would have to bleach it a second time and do a third color after the bleach. Right away I was asking questions of potential damage. I asked several of the stylist. All of them as well as my stylist reassured me that the damage would be no greater than what they had already done and that everything should be fine. I was hesitant but after paying over 200 dollars I wanted to get the color results that I desired. My hair is naturally curly, with soft bouncy curls, of course I was worried of the damage a SECOND bleach and THIRD color would do to my hair, but after listening to the stylists "professional" opinion and her reassuring me that all the processes wouldn't do much damage I said okay and went along with it. Had the stylist told me that my hair would have been severely damaged to the point where I would need to basically chop off all my hair I would have NEVER, I repeat, NEVER gone back a second time for the color correction. After getting home from the salon the second session I washed my hair from the deep condition, only to find my hair completely and utterly fried with not a single curl in sight. My hair was breaking off in chunks, and was horribly frizzy, basically all of my hair was bleach damaged and dead. If I could literally go back in time I would have never even come into the salon. If I had been told that the color would not turn out the way I wanted from the picture, and that the bleach would ruin not only my curls, but my hair in general I would have never had it colored at all. I feel as if the stylist are NOT professional, nor are they knowledgeable or concerned about their clients hair. I am now left 200 dollars short with nothing to show for it, but dry damaged hair that is breaking off. My natural texture is ruined and I am actually lucky to even have some hair left on my head. I literally cried for days, and was left with a bun since I could not do anything to my hair of fear that it will all fall out. For a salon that claims to be of a certain caliber, I am shocked that this is the treatment they give their customers. My stylist actually texted me asking how my hair had turned out a few days later, and I told her how my hair had turned out after washing it at home, low and behold, I never got an apology or a text back. I will never come to this salon again.

I love Delisa. She has been doing my hair for about two years now. I highly recommend her to my friends and associates. I will comment on pricing. I have noticed that prices for the same services I have received in less than a year ago have increased. Just a month and a half ago I had a hair cut for $50.00, my last hair cut on 3/18/16 was $60.00. I understand that increases happen, but notification would be appropriate. I am a steady client of Delissa's. I take care to tip well and make my appointment well into the future. Delisa does not get involved with the pricing, so management needs to take a look at this. Thanks Always satisfied with the well-versed hair "therapist" at Vasuda. I have very curly and thick hair and depending on my needs of wanting my curls enhanced or straitened Vasuda know just the trick! Also, coming from someone who had relaxers since the age of 5, I made my official transition with Vasuda 4 years ago, and 4 years later my hair is back to its length, bounce and curls!!

I was very happy with my color. Tanay was very professional but I think she needs more training in handling tightly coiled hair. After my hair dried I had massive tangles. It took me two days to detangle and I ended up cutting a lot of the knots out. For my hair type you always have to smooth the hair in one direction never ever scrunch the hair. Shampoo should be concentrated on the scalp and smoothed down the hair shaft in one direction. Conditioner should be concentrated at the ends first and also smooth down the hair shaft in one direction. All tangles should be work out at the shampoo bowl with loads of conditioner, smoothing until no more tangles can be felt. Just leaving the rinse out conditioner in was not enough moisture for my hair. I needed a leave in conditioner. She scrunched the gel in my hair, which is a big no-no. I am reluctant to return due to the amount of tangling I experience. I don't want to spend hundreds of dollars to have tangled hair.

I made an appointment for a haircut. Hadn't had a cut for awhile, so hair was definitely uneven and longer than I like. Stylist was very nice, but she did not ask what kind of cut I wanted. She gave me a very slight trim. While she was cutting it I said she could take more off. She told me that if I wasn't happy with it later I could come back for a complimentary re-cut. Over the next week I decided I needed to go back for re-do, as my hair really didn't look like it had been cut at all. When I went back she did a better job, but I was surprised that I was charged exactly the same amount as the original shampoo, cut & style. When I asked about the price, I was told that the shampoo & style was the same price as it was with the cut. I was disappointed, but didn't want to argue. I wouldn't have needed to go back if I'd been happy with the cut in the first place. I expected to be charged for the styling, but thought there would be a discount for the "complimentary" re-cut. The staff is nice, but I won't be returning.

I received a haircut from Ariana and felt that she was thoughtful and attentive. One thing that I noticed was that she cut my hair and then would dry it to see how my curls would dry in order to not cut off too much, which I appreciated. That being said, my curls are mostly gone which isn't her fault at all but I was hoping for a curlier, shorter cut and instead I have a wavy, asymmetrical bob. I wish that with the dramatic change that I was making (I went from long, curly hair and cut off 8-9 inches!) that she would have been bolder and done more. That being said, I've received tons of compliments and can still put my hair up, which I appreciate. I will probably be back as I was thinking about color too. Ultimately I just want my hair to shine in every occasion and I think Vasuda is making that happen!

My experience was AMAZING! I was very nervous/anxious for my appt. I am half white/half black and my hair is very thick and curly. I have had some interesting salon experiences in the past, encountering people that had no idea how to even approach naturally curly hair the right way. My appt was with Jenn and she was GREAT! She talked me through the whole appt which helped with my nerves. Also curly hair ladies, she didn't have to straighten my hair to cut it! She created a shape that suites the shape of my face and she also listened to what I wanted. My natural curls have never looked better! Overall the experience was great and I cant wait to go back for a trim. The salon atmosphere was fun and upbeat, you can really tell everyone enjoyed being there.

Celeste is not only a talented hairstylist, but she is truly a master at her skill and very professional. After dealing with my hair falling out, going thin, and curls losing their life, I decided it was time to chop off most of my hair. For someone who has had long hair all of her life, it was a big step for me. To ensure it was done properly, I looked all over for someone who specialized in hair care and cutting for curls and then I found Vasuda Salon and Celeste. I definitely made the right choice and I'm so happy I found them! Celeste gave me a different experience than what I am used to at a salon. She was very gentle, talked me through every step, and explained thoroughly what she was doing and why. She was very informative and I felt more educated on my hair after everything was done. Everyone close to me begged me not to cut my hair and said I didn't have the face shape for short hair. Those same people saw me after Celeste cut my hair and are completely in love and say my hair looks the best they've ever seen it. I've gotten so many compliments on it and for once, I truly do feel like my hair looks great. It's so healthy now and the style she cut it in is very manageable, whether I keep it down and put it up. If you have curls and are in need of a cut, I encourage you to trust Celeste and make your way to Vasuda Salon.

My stylist was charming, knowledgeable and gave me a fantastic color. it is always nerve wracking to start with a new person and she was great, I will definitely be back go see her again. My only negative was that the salon wasn't open on time. There were several people standing outside in the rain waiting for the gal to open. When she got there she was apologetic and very nice. We all have unavoidable delays at times. My only suggestion would be to have a set of keys that the stylists could use to open the salon if this same situation arose in the future, I ended up starting my appointment 1/2 hour late, which wasn't as issue for me yesterday but could be an issue for me in the future because I live on an island and am bound by a ferry schedule, I am sure it was an unusual thing, otherwise, my experience was great!

The stylist I originally scheduled with was unable to come it. The staff attempted to call to let me know as soon as they were aware but I didn't receive the message because I did not check my cell phone before I headed to the salon. Once I arrived, I was told my stylist was out and if I still wanted to keep my appointment they would take care of me. One stylist did the consult, wash, and cut and another did the styling. I was very pleased with the cut and styling. I also received an unexpected discount for my trouble. All of the staff there was attentive, professional, and friendly, and from my experience, the stylists are very skilled. I love Vasuda! This was my second visit but I will definitely be returning.

The stylist was very good technically but does little to communicate otherwise. Depending on the stylist your experience can be more positive. My stylist just seemed a little standoffish and this occurs consistently with her. There are others in the salon that are much more engaging. For the price it would be nice to think that the stylist actually wants you there, especially since she is a level 3.

This was my first visit to see Celeste, who unfortunately had a vehicle accident and was unable to provide service to me. However, the owner Emmett and other staff filled in for her absence and gave me the best customer service experience with a beauty salon. I was so pleased with the haircut, instructions for home care and recommended products. I will be back on December 29th at the Seattle location for the Touch Up/Bang Trim session with Celeste and look forward to future visits at the Tacoma location which is closer to my house. I was recommended by co-worker, Lulu Miles. I can't wait for her to see my hair. I forwarded the photo that Phillysha took of me to family and friends. I received excellent service from Briana. She is charming and friendly, she gave me a fabulous haircut and styling, a great experience overall. I came in not really knowing what haircut to get, and came out with a nice, comfortable length. Unlike other places I've been to, there was no pushy salesman treatment forcing you to get other services done or buy product from them. The complimentary trim within 4wks of haircut is good news to me, although I can't imagine I would want anything different. Granted that my cut looks kinda choppy to me, but thick hair is always a challenge. Briana is truly a great asset to Vasuda!

They exceeded my expectations. Although I live in Olympia, I drive to Seattle to go to Vasuda because the stylists have no problem with my hair texture and handle it without any problems. I would definitely recommend them.

Hi, I was in a couple of weeks ago. I have been coming for years. I saw a new person this time. And when I asked to have my hair smoothed out, I was told "sure no problem." Then I when I went to pay, I was charged for that service. I was not aware that it cost extra. I have had my hair smoothed out in the past and was not charged extra. I was pretty disappointed since I think it would have been more appropriate and forthcoming to let me know that it would be an extra charge. I really liked the person who was doing my hair. ANd I do not want to fault them. I was just very surprised when I went to pay. And I think that if you are going to charge someone extra for a service that you let them know beforehand.

Another great haircut. In the past, routine trims always caused me a little anxiety due to experiences with 'scissor happy' stylists (a trim suddenly becomes an unwanted haircut - we've all been there). But, since finding Celeste at Vasuda, over-cutting hasn't been a problem. I recently saw her for a trim but wanted the length a little shorter than usual. I gave her an estimate of how much I wanted cut, and she nailed it - it's the perfect length. The overall Salon experience is great, too - friendly, professional staff, a relaxed atmosphere and a tidy space. The prices are reasonable, too.

Been to both salons. The one in north end....frustrating!! could not find parking, wish some one would have made suggestions where to park. drove by the place...maybe a sign on the sidewalk would help? ok enough of that. I LOVE this place so nice to be in a place that knows curly hair!!! So you have different people with different curls...stylists diverse! Love I'm recognized when I walk into the salon. Mil gracias! I moved to Seattle from Atlanta, haven't found good black hair salons, recently and was anxious about finding a good stylist. I found Vasuda on Yelp and selected Lenny because of his ability to work with coarse curly natural hair. The salon is spacious and clean. The staff is courteous and professional. I didn't have to wait; Lenny was on time. We talked about my texture and the cut I wanted. Lenny listened and offered his expertise. He talked me through what he recommended for the cut and made sure I was comfortable with what he was going to do. He also explained what he was doing as he styled my hair. I got a great cut that suits my face shape and my hair texture. Great experience.

My appointment was great! I came in with my human hair wig already washed and just needed someone to curl my hair for an engagement shoot I was having the next day. The Assistant Stylist did a great job and was super nice, we were able to work together to create something i liked. My only issue is when it came time to pay, the price i was quoted on the phone was different then what she was telling me at the register. This kind of threw me off as i felt the person at the register was just brushing off the fact that i was quoted a different price and then says that well it looks like they gave you wrong information... The difference in price was only $10, but to me considering i came in with my hair already washed, no cut, nothing... it just seemed crazy to pay for that price for just a curl with a curling iron. Surly, if i was was quoted the actual price i might have sought elsewhere. Regardless, I still like the salon and will come back if I need another service done bc they do a good job.

I met with Celeste. She is friendly and professional. I was in Seattle just overnight and flying to Europe the next day. I wanted a Deva cut as I have 3c curly hair and I wanted color. I realized I don't know much about color because Celeste had to explain the process to me extensively. She didn't cut a lot of layers because my hair had a lot of dead ends so she cleaned that up and next time I may get more layers. I like the cut but to get the depth and warmth of color I want, I would need much more time. Plus I think my hair is tricky because it's so porous and I have some grey on the sides. Next time I will ask for more time and bring in better images of color that I'd like.

Great salon--my haircut from Lenny looks great, and the staff there are friendly and know how to work with all textures of hair, whether you want to wear it naturally or have it straightened. Mine is very curly, "bi-racial" hair, which can present challenges for stylists but Lenny handled it :) I plan to return there again.

I got my hair done, full highlight retouch and a haircut, by Lenny last weekend. I must say that my hair came out awesome. As a multiracial woman with "mixed hair" I have had my fair share of interesting hair stylist encounters. However, I would not get my hair done anywhere else in the state of Washington other than at Vasuda Salon. Seriously. They know their stuff and I love that when you walk in you see all types of people with all types of hair styles and textures! Everyone is made to feel welcomed. Lenny did my highlights and haircut last week and it was amazing! Lenny, you are truly a FANTASTIC hair architect. Not only is my hair flawless, even after a week since coming there, but I used the product you mentioned, the Moroccan oil mousse for curls and received so many compliments. This is one product that allows me to wear my hair naturally curly right after shampoo and rinse! My curls were amazing and I recommended it to one of my friends and her daughter (who is also mixed). They also complimented my highlights and I told them they gotta go Vasuda and see Lenny. Thank you Lenny for not only making my trip and hair experience at Vasuda amazing, but thank you for always making me feel welcomed and included as a client. I always enjoy working with you. Thank you for teaching me so much about hair, including my own! Your energy and passion is contagious and I am looking forward to seeing you again in a few months. Ps-my friend and her daughter may be planning a trip from Oregon up to Seattle just to see you because you are an awesome hair architect. Thank you for a wonderful experience and thank you for making my hair look awesome as usual. #LennyRocks #HairArchitect #VasudaIsWhereToGo #ThankYOU

I always enjoy getting a hair cut and color done here, but I have to say, after almost a year of coming here, I'm frustrated with the rising prices and the increase in time spent for appointments. I just went this past Saturday and hair cut prices were up as well as coloring. And it took 4 hours to get cut, touch-up color, and mini highlight package. Not only am I spending $$$ but I'm also spending a lot of my time here during appointments. I don't think this salon is worth my money and time anymore.

My original appointment was cancelled because my stylist was unavailable, which was fine and life happens. What sucked was that I ended up rescheduling for a 6 PM appointment on the same day, a saturday, and got a rushed cut after waiting ten minutes at the hair wash station for someone to rinse the conditioner off my head. I'm currently stuck with layers (some of which I didn't want) that look poorly blended now that I've washed my hair with no way to fix it at this salon. I've emailed in hopes of getting this cut fixed-- no response, and the phone line is always busy. I really wanted to like my experience; the staff is quite nice, but the sight of my hair pisses me off. I might try this place again, maybe if I can get my hair fixed.

I absolutely love and appreciate the service received here. No more double booked appointments and waiting all day in the salon for a simple style. The prices are unbelievably reasonable compared to other salons that offer service half as good as Vasuda. I never leave this salon feeling guilty or feeling like I have been ripped off. My hair is so healthy, and growing faster than I'd ever imagined after getting major color. A year after getting my balayage, my color still looks amazing!! Thank you! I'll forever refer you to everyone and wish I would have started coming here even sooner.

Linda is great! I think I've been going to her for over a year now. I moved to Seattle over 3 years ago and had bounced from salon to salon looking for someone who could handle my non-conventional blonde, curly hair. My hair is curlier near the roots and loosens up near the ends. Linda was the first stylist where, when I left, I actually was happy with my cut! She is easy to talk to and listens to what style works for me and it always turns out great. Definitely recommend her!

I know it was going to be more than what I normally spend, but I was really looking forward to an outstanding experience and I didn't get it. For a level 3 hair stylist I was disappointed. She disagreed with my choices, was not friendly, seemed annoyed at life...I could go on and on. My shirt even got ruined by the hair dyed products and she left dark spots on my skin after the wash. The front staff was absolutely amazing they even knew it was my birthday.

Loved the washing and conditioning by the stylist. The blowdry was great as well. Even though I shared a picture with the stylist, the ending style was not exactly what I wanted. However, the stylist was really nice so I do plan to come back. Next time I will have to be more adamant about the style I want. It's a nice style just not exactly what I was looking for.

I've been getting my hair styled by Emmett for 16 months now. What a wonderful experience each & every visit has been. And each time I think to myself "this is my dream haircut. Emmett is a mind reader besides being the most remarkable stylist I've ever had." I keep thinking something will change but no, my styles just get better & more fun & so darn cute. I've even begun getting some color work done, which I never did when I was younger. He's a true artist. He looks at you and he knows what he wants to see. Yet he is a dedicated listener and does his best to give a client what they want but keeping in mind what his vision is. And the man has VISION. No doubt. This is the stylist I'm staying with for the rest of my/his life! Emmett is a true genius, as is his wife and business partner Jessica. Together they are building a style empire I'm delighted to be a part of!

It was my first time there and Linda was amazing. She was sweet and friendly and made it such a great experience. I know I needed a cut but wasn't sure what to do.

She helped me decide and everyone keeps mentioning how awesome my hair looks. I wish there was more parking but the front desk person went out to double check I was parked in the right spot and let me know to move my car so I did not get a ticket or towed. That was kind. I did have to wait about 30 minutes past my appointment time and stayed 30 minutes longer than expected and paid more than I usually do but it was worth it.

My experience with Vasuda Salon was great! Appointments are very easy to make online, and they send you an email reminder for your upcoming appointment. Everyone at the front desk was was pleasant and cordial. Erica cut my hair, and she did an amazing job. I have curly hair (Type 3B, specifically), and she knew exactly how to cut my curls to frame my face. Additionally, I showed her two different pictures, and she was able to give me a kind of combination cut incorporating both looks. She also had no hesitation giving me bangs which I have wanted for years, but no stylist was willing to cut them for me before. This is the best experience I've ever had in a salon, and I can't recommend Vasuda or Erica more. Especially if you have curly hair, this is the place to go!

I hate to do this, because I really like Emily - when she was training at Aveda, she gave me some excellent haircuts. Unfortunately, this one is pretty bad. I have very short hair and like it short - we were going for a softer look- shaped on sides and back and longer and softer on top. Not a "high and tight" -- which is sort of what I look like! She got in trouble early on: cut into a cowlick and somehow kept going down to scalp. In places it looks like she used clippers and in other places it is longer and chunky. I came home and cried - I start a new job today and I don't even look like myself. It's not really salvageable, but I am going to call around and see if a senior stylist somewhere can make me look less like Alfalfa. Emily is still a trainee yet at no time did someone come by to check on her progress... I'm disappointed and as I say I am sad to have to give you bad feedback.

I highly recommend Vasuda! I am here for a week, visiting from Mpls and while checking out their website and reviews, I noticed they too, have a Mpls connection. My entire experience from the moment I called and booked an appointment to the moment I paid was smooth and relaxing. The young woman who initially took my call was extremely friendly, upbeat, professional and asked enough questions so as to ensure a perfect coloring experience. To me that's very important: first impressions! Upon entering the salon, the receptionist greeted me warmly, asking if I wanted tea or a beverage. My appointment was with Maya. FABULOUS, professional, hip (yes, I said hip!) and most importantly, very knowledgeable on hair coloring and current trends. She told me about the Balayage color technique and that sounded perfect. It was and it is! So happy with the way my hair turned out and I can't say enough about Maya!! Book your next appointment with her and enjoy :)

Everyone was friendly and kind, and it was my second time at Vasuda Salon. Michele did a good job with my haircut, but she ignored my requests. I asked her not to take any length off and specifically said that I wanted to still be able to pull my hair into a ponytail. I just had a new baby, and I wanted to be able to pull my hair back when feeding her. However, Michele ignored this, and she cut too much length off. Now I can't pull all of my hair back into a ponytail, which is really disappointing and difficult for me. I really wish I had gone somewhere else and won't be returning to this salon. I previously would have highly recommended both the salon and Michele, but I would hesitate to do that now.

Came in for a trim w Izzy and was suggested layers. All I can say is that I walked out looking worse than when I came in. Hair is at an awkward shoulder length, there are only two levels of layers on my curly hair, and it takes the general shape of a blobish triangle. I have recieved this mess of a haircut before for $15. The haircut itself was very quick and I couldn't tell what effort she was putting in to make my special type of curls look good on my head.

I really love how quick my appointments are and the environment at the salon, but I'm still not totally satisfied with the treatments I've gotten there. My blowouts/trims afterward were awesome and looked amazing, but I got my roots relaxed and the stylist missed a few spots on the back of my head. Still just a little disappointed by the service, I'd rather have the appointment take twice as long as actually have it done really well so I don't have to come back as often to get it touched up.

After years of bad or just so-so hair cuts I did a lot of calling around and looking online for someone that could deal with naturally curly hair. In the past, I've had straight-haired stylists that didn't know what to do with my quarter to one inch natural curls, so they mainly just trimmed my ends with no real style. Then, she would damage it with tons of heat to a fried mess and spend time then using a straightener to correct the damage just done with more heat styling. I also had a disastrous 'dry-cut' by someone at Vain and when I tried to blow my hair out and style it myself it was terribly uneven and never really looked good. Also, I like using natural products like WEN on my hair - straight-haired stylist don't always get that the products can also make things worse. You can see why I was gun-shy about trying a new salon. I found Vasuda Salon via various online reviews and when I saw specific webpages devoted to waves and curls and to learning how to cut and manage curly hair - I made an appointment with Izzy. She was great and asked me how I wore/styled my hair - when I said about 1/2 of the time blown out and 1/2 time curly she cut my hair so it was bouncy and the bangs weren't too short and didn't poof up. I have worn it curly and straight since and will definitely go back again. Thanks Izzy and Vasuda Salon!!!

Loved Lizzy! She did a great job on my hair and was very nice, professional and communicated every step of the way when making decisions on my cut and style, what products she was using, which products she recommended (for the future to replace my current products) and asked lots of questions so that she could make educated recommendations. I am definitely going to her again and again...my hair is wonderfully healthy and feels amazing! I have been getting compliments left and right.

This is my favorite salon! After coming here about 3 times, I've fell in love with the ease of scheduling an appointment, the friendliness of the entire staff, the prices, and the quality of their work! I always leave feeling beautiful and more knowledgeable about my specific hair type. I'm confident that I will receive great care regardless of the level of the stylist I book with, and looking forward to coming her on my wedding day!!

It was a good experience with Lenny. I am very disappointed though because I had my hair colored on May 15th and today is May 18th and the color is already fading out. I haven't even washed my hair yet. Not sure if there is something I can do about that, but I paid a pretty penny to have my hair colored and kind of upset that it is fading after only 3 days.

My experience at Vasuda was excellent. I've never had a "consultation"-type appointment but I'm so glad that I was referred to Emmett and Vasuda. I learned so much and Emmett is clearly so knowledgeable. Not only did he teach me a lot about my hair, but he also made sure that I understood and that I felt comfortable doing the styling on my own at home! I look forward to my next appointment and I have already told several of my fellow curly-haired friends about my experience at Vasuda.

I love Courtney. She has been doing my hair for a couple of years now and always has great ideas and works hard to achieve a beautiful result. She never skimps on anything...the color is gorgeous and matches my skin tone well. She also recommends great treatments such as Keratin Express to seal in moisture since my hair is very dry and frizzy. The atmosphere at Vasuda Salon on 15th Ave. NE is very relaxed and friendly! The only problem was that the check-out process took longer than I wanted it to!

It was pleasant. I thought the salon was very accommodating. The beautician was very knowledgeable about my hair and she did a fantastic job. She was a bit rough though. She scratched my ear a couple of times and really pulled on my hair. She had gotten close to my scalp with the hair dryer as well. I winced a couple of times and she didn't seem to respond to it but it wasn't too bad.- nothing I couldn't take. I got great results and I would go back!

Hey ladies! My name is Alicia and I have naturally curly hair, about a 3B. I found Vasuda and decided to give them a shot after a week of reading through every single comment on their website and yelp page. I will say, I am so glad I made the leap! I was absolutely terrified about cutting my hair and I was considering a drastic change in my hairstyle. I was planning on going from 19 years of shoulder length and longer hair, to a bob. Believe you me, I sat on the idea for a very long time. My past experiences with hairs cuts were always a disaster with the wet hair cuts and then losing more length than I wanted. Many months of bad hair, pulling it up and bandannas. But I decided I needed new life in my hair and wanted to find a salon that specialized in Curly hair, and Vasuda is that salon. Here was my whole experience with them! Setting Up the Appointment: So I pretty much avoid phone calls as much as possible, and Vasuda has a wonderful online scheduler. I will say, I wish the profiles for the stylists popped up when you're picking an available spot so you know what their specialty is, but the whole system is fabulous and easy to understand. Quickly set up my appointment (after creating an account with them, definitely recommend that) and later created an appointment for my SO, who also has curly, at the same time. I was scheduled for Courtney and my SO was scheduled for Izzy. I later read that Izzy was the girl to go to for curly hair, but I was like, meh, maybe they can fix it? Two days before my appointment(s), I received a call from them, confirming my appointment. This is where my initial fears were abated. Because I had scheduled two appointments for the same time under my account (I couldn't specify who the second one was for), the lady wanted to verify the scheduling. When I told her that it was for me and my SO, and that we both had curly hair, she was an absolute doll and offered to reschedule me so that I could see Izzy, as she was more specialized in curly hair. I was thrilled!!

Arrival and Waiting for Appointment: We decided to make the appointment a day trip to Seattle, but there's only so much to do and coordinate with arrival time, so we got to Vasuda 30-35 minutes too early. The lady at the desk was really sweet and offered us water or tea, to take our coats and stuff. I declined all ( I don't like bugging people with my stuff lol) and we took a seat and waited. I wasn't expecting much interaction with the staff, but after about 20 minutes, I was surprised no one acknowledged us again as we sat there. Don't get me wrong, everyone was kool, but it felt like everyone around the desk kinda ignored us for a long while. at around 4, this nice lady (really kool hair cut and seemed to be a manager) looked at us and she was frantically off to do business stuff and asked us if we were still alright and wanted something to drink. We smiled and said we're fine :) I was just happy to be noticed again. Also, their product selection is amazing! Top of the line curly hair products.

Consultation and Hair Cut: My timing couldn't have been worse. It was 10 minutes after my scheduled appointment (still no updates on that either btw, kinda irked me, but not enough to rave about these ladies), and I had to go to the restroom. Just as I stand, I run into Izzy, who's all ready for me. So thus begins the consultation. Izzy was/is a sweetheart! I told her I wanted a bob and that I was very nervous. Explained my past experiences with wet hair cuts and the disasters that ensued after. She reassured me with a smile and asked what I had in mind. I only had a general idea of a bob, but wasn't sure how to go about it. Izzy gave me two options, uniform all around or keep it longer in the front and have it shorter in the back. I wasn't sure at the time, so I said "I think shorter in the back, but whatever you think would work best." We chatted a bit and then she prepped me for the cutting.....WHICH WAS A DRY CUT!!! YAAAAAY! Izzy was awesome and told me when she was going to cut and chatted with me throughout the cut. The final product was....surreal! I hadn't seen myself with short hair since I was 6, crazy! She washed and styled my hair with DevaCurl....which I shall be using always....NoPoo, High Moisture and light weight gel. After all of the scrunching and fluffing, I was amazing at the bounce in my curls, the liveliness in my hair and the adorable style Izzy gave to me. I just kept swaying my head back and forth. Amazing Overall: This place is great, even with the minor flaws. The atmosphere is still inviting, very understanding and absolutely reassuring. Give them as much information about your hair as possible and they will know what will work, with options! I loved Izzy and she shall be my stylist from now on! I would have hugged the girl right there, but didn't want to make her uncomfortable. The prices are very reasonable for a salon with well trained stylists and amazing products. I will definitely be going back to these gals again! Thank you so much Vasuda ladies (I know men work there too, I didn't see them when I was there. But thank you guys too :D )

When I moved to Seattle from Chicago in 2013 it was overwhelming finding a salon that could style curly/natural hair. Finding Vasuda was a Godsend. Over the past 1.5 years I've worked with a few stylists and have had a great experience with them all. I've personally worked with Izzy, Linda, Erica and Livia... all of whom I would recommend without hesitation. This is my go-to salon for wash/style and brazilian blowouts. Their online appointment booking is a breeze and something I'd highly suggest using. They also offer a follow-up trim with a hair cut... so you can take advantage of that.

The cut was nice; Michelle took the time to get an idea of what I wanted and to explain what she was doing. But I was especially impressed with the atmosphere. The decor is down-to-earth functional and welcoming, the background music was a good mix, and the staff and clients are truly diverse. I love that! It was nice to see that people of all ages, sexes, and colors can go to the same salon and have someone who knows how to work with their hair type cut and style their hair. I will definitely go back.

The customer service at Vasuda is excellent. Everyone is warm and welcoming as soon as you walk in the door. The staff is knowledgeable and there's a wide variety of stylists, so you're sure to find one that you "click" with. I went in to ask a few questions about caring for my hair and have a hair cut. Jenn consulted me about various options to achieve more manageability with my 4C coils and Livia did my actual cut. Both ladies were friendly, attentive, and pleasant to interact with. Although I'd already consulted with Jenn about various options for my hair, Livia was more than happy to answer additional questions and offer her suggestions. I was told they have a stylist that specializes in braids, twists, locs, and other natural hair care styles named Georgena, so I'll likely be scheduling an appointment with her soon. Overall, a very pleasant experience and it didn't set me back ridiculous amounts of money. The place was pretty busy, so it's ideal to make an appointment.

I have very tenacious curly hair that I struggle with but love, so was very nervous about getting my first haircut in Seattle. I did my research on best salons for my type of hair and decided on Vasuda. I walked into their Downtown Seattle location without an appointment and luckily they were able to see me within 15 min! Jenn gave me a great dry hair cut and was very thorough on explaining exactly what she was doing the entire time. She was great at providing some much needed education on how to best care for my hair as well. I highly recommend this salon and will definitely be going back!

I had come to Vasuda Salon at reviving a recommendation from my best friend to go Courtney Lynch. I looked at the website for months reading reviews, looking at the services provided and just getting an overall feel for the salon. After finally making an appointment I am so happy I went and can honestly say I will be back. As a multiracial woman I have never been more satisfied. Courtney knew what she was doing and wasn't afraid of my 3C hair that had been over processed from going platinum blonde then back to black.

Jenn is fantastic, I'm always in and out in an hour. Friday was no exception. My only negative feedback is that one of the other stylists just kept gabbing on and on and on and she was SUPER loud so there was nothing "relaxing" about my keratin treatment. I'll be sure to bring headphones going forward.

Very, very good haircut BUT the stylist needs to understand that as with most professions, expertise is essential but only a part of what is necessary when dealing with the public. Occasional charm may be important but can be superficial. Friendliness really does matter. And, ageism, if it exists, as with all prejudice, needs to be eliminated.

I've been having my hair styled by Emmett for nearly a year now. He rescued me from a disaster of a cut and has brought out my curls in a way I'd only dreamt of. This time after talking it over with Emmett (who always listens carefully & respectfully) I decided to get some foiling done. Although I'm 66 y.o. I've never colored my hair so this was a first. A lovely young stylist did the foiling with Emmett supervising and it came out completely absolutely fabulous. Then after Emmett styled it I was over the moon, very happy at how it all came out. The cut and color were super cute, all down to the savvy and inspired way Emmett and his crew work. My hair is curly on top & sides, wavy further down and has about 7 or 8 cowlicks so finding Vasuda Salon was a heaven sent, my lucky day. I encourage you to discover this place for yourself if a stylish well done cut/color is your desire! ps you won't have your ears blown out by high decibel music either.

Everyone in the entire salon is so friendly and truly makes you feel pampered! Great service, great atmosphere, and great people. They're knowledgeable about so many different types of hair and what products will help you look your best. Found Vasuda by a stroke of luck, and will continue to come whenever I need any work done. Would recommend hands down to anyone!

I went in to get a layered look for my S-curly hair. Jen did a great job giving me some shape and haircare information. Its such a fun cut! I feel more glamorous now and just want to shake my hair all the time, lol. Its longer than a bob, but layered with a V shape that just brushed past my shoulders. My curls are lighter now. The only reason for 4/5 stars is because I use organic hair products, the mousse I decided to try had many ingredients that I could not pronounce on the label. They said it was close to a natural product but doesn't look like it. Also, the next day when I went to rinse my hair and add my own styling cream, it felt like it had been dried out by the product. Moroccan mouse. I will stick with my Curls Creme Brule product. Very reasonably priced for the fabulous cut I received! I'll be returning.

I am new to Seattle and was looking for someone who knew curly hair. I read the rave reviews of Vasuda and looked throug the pics and bios of the stylists. I was most drawn to Brianna because I loved her hair, but a little nervous because she was newer and didn't have any reviews. Well, let me be the first. I love her and her work and I have now found my person. She is very calm and listens attentively. She takes her time and explains everything she is going to do beforehand, and then does exactly what she says she will, based on what you want. She gave me a perfect cut. The real test is the next day when I get it wet and style it myself, and it turned out beautifully. She really brought my curls out while keeping the essential shape that I wanted. Plus, she is adorable. Everyone at the salon is warm and welcoming.

Last time I was in for a color treatment and Courtney took the time to show me different highlight shades to choose from. The outcome was beyond what I imagined. I recommend this salon to anyone looking for excellent results first time around. I'll be back.

I absolutely love Vasuda! I travel all the way from Tacoma to Seattle just to experience their services. I usually go to Emmett for my hair but everyone that has helped with my hair have been professional and friendly and do an amazing job. I have really long natural textured hair which is not easy to style and every time i come out of Vasuda my hair looks perfect and healthy. They really care about you and your hair at Vasuda. Highly recommended!

I am so happy that I found Vasuda and Emmit. He is so knowledgeable about his craft, curly/kinky hair and products that I will never go to any other salon. I found Emmtt's knowledge delightful and walked away being a little more educated than before I stepped in. I had a 6:45pm appointment, he got me in promptly and I left in about one hour. I got a wash, a condish and Deva Cut! How amazeballs is that!? I referred my sister, she is natural too, she is considering booking her appointment with Emmit as well. I will continue to refer folks until everyone knows how wonderful it is to have a choice to go someplace to enhance their natural beauty!

This recent visit is the best I have ever experienced at Vasuda. Courtney took a lot of time to discuss exactly what I wanted. She listened to me , made suggestions when appropriate, and spent considerable time helping me to arrive at a decision concerning my haircut and color. The results were just what I wanted but have never previously gotten at Vasuda. I love the chunky streaks and also the cut ( amazing variation on my basic idea, suggested by Courtney). Courtney is not afraid to think outside the box and was enthusiastic throughout my lengthy appt.

So my first two experiences were good, what you should expect out of anywhere you go. My next two sent me running for the hills. I paid $150 to get my hair matched to my natural color or close to it. My grow out was over an inch so my natural color was very obvious. I'm naturally a light blonde and some how I walked out of there with chocolate brown hair. 6weeks later it is now a nasty shade of reddish orange. I've been to two other salons for opinions since and they both said the gal mixed the wrong toner. I returned to Vasuda for a trim and to complain about the color. the girl hack my hair off and put me back a year in hair growth, she gave me layers when I asked her not too, I was very specific, I stopped her in the middle of the hair cut and told her to stop. I was also told I could pay another $150 to get the hair color fixed...I was completely shocked, you want to charge me for your mess up! Wow, horrible company....I've been telling everyone to run far away from this place after recommending you to quick a few girls. Sad, I was hoping super cuts wouldn't be better than this place but its not.

My experience with Georgena (GiGi) is always fantastic! I appreciate that she takes her time both with my hair and all the questions that I ask. Traveling into downtown Seattle is one of my least favorite things to do but I now do it regularly to see GiGi! I was a loyal customer of a different salon with wonderful stylists that did great work. The moment I found out that GiGi was at Vasuda Salon, I made an appointment with her and cancelled all of my remaining appointments at the other salon. There are only a few places that either cater toward African-American hair or have a stylist that really knows how to style and care for African-American hair in Seattle, I am thankful that GiGi is here, she is a gem! I sing her praises to all those that are in need of a stylist, particularly my African-American friends with locs.

It was a cute haircut. I lost a little more hair than I'd like but nothing awful. I didn't like that my bangs and face framed hair was cut wet. Everything doesn't sit quite right. I also didn't appreciate that from shampoo to style my hair was constantly pulled. I felt pain throughout my appointment and afterwards I kept checking my hair because it felt like strands were falling out. I have always liked Vasuda and will come back but I do not believe I will request this stylist again.

All the staff at Vasuda salon are extremely professional and friendly. It's a fun and yet relaxing environment. Jenn always does a great job with my hair (which is no easy task) and gives me good advice and suggestions concerning my hair. She also has great product knowledge. As a side note, I enjoy that Vasuda salon always offers you water or delicious hot tea upon entering for your appointment, which on a cold and rainy day is the perfect added touch to a great experience.

I have been a salon guest at Vasuda for over a year. I am very pleased with my hair , cut color texture health and shine. Jen has patiently skillfully taken my grey/blonde hair to an amazing shade of white/silver that is sophisticated and well....drop dead gorgeous!. Only suggestion for improvement would be in the phone system. I have had difficulty reaching the stylist directly when I had questions or concerns about something. Overall...excellent Thank you Linda

I've enjoyed that fact that all stylists are trained to address every type of hair. I love that I can be in and out within an hour or so. I was excited that my last visit was discounted due to my birthday being this month. That was a great gift. And, I like the ability to have a touch-up hair cut within four weeks. This is really helpful since I wear my hair both straight and natural.

I think Lenny was great and spent a lot of time with me, which is nice. The color came out fabulous and I was very pleased. The only advise I would give is to let the client know the charges after you do the consult...I didn't realize I was getting a overall color ($) added to a partial highlight ($) and additional cost for a toner($), which I've never heard of.. Thank goodness for my 25% off. Anyway, I will come again and see Lenny, but know in advance what I am paying for.

What a happy experience! I needed a haircut and color, walked by Vasuda Salon and gave it a try. I got the exact color and haircut I wanted. I travel a lot and end up in salons all over the world. Many stylists won't cut my hair as short as I want as they don't know me and I don't carry around photos of me in the short pixie I prefer. Courtney understood and gave me exactly what I wanted! Love that Vasuda has such a diverse clientele and staff!

I went to your salon as I was told that you specialized in curly hair. I asked for a master stylist and was told by the girl doing my hair that she had only been doing hair for 8 months. She butchered my hair, I told her no layers and she layered my entire head so badly I went to hair masters that evening to have them fix it so I could at least be presentable. She listened to nothing I said. I will never come back to your salon, they are only interested in doing blowouts and this girl had NO experience with curly hair.

I was sort of surprised by my outcome. I came in and was seen right away sat down looked at my hair and asked how I cared for it , he assured me that he was not overwhelmed by my hair , which made me feel a lot more comfortable. I have a lot of hair its big and frizzy and never knows if it wants to be curly or wavy coarse or thick. He recommended some good products that I myself use on a regular basis mostly Davine product. Then he began to cut we agreed on longer the better and he showed me about half an inch he was cutting off. I was fine with that then the styling came and thats where things got confusing he told me he wanted to see what my hair looked like blown out I told him that's what I normally get is just a blow out. He wanted to try the diffuser ,which I was curious to see the out come of as well ... Poof went my hair and a lot of time wasted he tried to thin a few sections , but it wasn't going to make a difference my hair was wet he put a bunch of product in and apparently I was done. I get blow outs all the time for a glamorous straight with big waves look .Yuck I knew once my hair dried it was going to fro back out. I was not mistaken, I rushed to the nearest salon to have someone straighten it for me paying for two hair appointments the same day was not my plan , but had to be done. I realized after the washing a lot more was taken off than I thought and the layers were not very prevalent or as prevalent as I am used to seeing . I was disappointed , but I think I'll give them one more chance and be a lot more verbal about how I want my hair.

Have been coming to Vasuda-Northgate for almost a year now and am always happy with my experience. The stylist I see is fantastic and reception is always great. The only reason for 4 stars instead of 5 is that I was a little put-off by the fact it didn't seem well ventilated this last visit. I guess another client was getting hair treated or flattened (?) and the air was pretty thick with that burnt hair/product smell (or something!) and while waiting for my visit it was irritating my throat enough I was coughing. It has never been that bad before and would not stop me from recommending this place to any of my friends--but something that made this last experience a little more uncomfortable than usual and that I wanted to note!

I wanted to be sure to leave a review... I've been going to Vasuda Salon for over a year now, and always have had great service. Emmett is truly a curly hair master. But this was the first time I've gone with the goal of getting more than a trim - instead having a new shape/style in mind for my curly hair. Emmett gave me EXACTLY the cut I wanted! I'm so happy and am getting tons of compliments already. He's genius when it comes to cutting and styling curly hair!

Livia is an amazing stylist! She is the first person to ever cut my hair right! She handled my mixed chick curls with confidence and cut them curly. Every other haircut I've ever had was done wet, combed, and pulled it straight. That only left me with an uneven curly style. I didn't wear my hair down because I was self concious about it. At Vasuda, Livia cut my hair while it was a dry curly mess and she shaped it perfectly. Then she used DevaCurl gel to define my curls after she washed it and showed me how to style it. I left the salon feeling incredible about my appearance!!! Now I can wear my hair the way I want to, and feel beautiful! I won't be going anywhere else now that I've found you guys! Emmett is fantastic. I have tried out different stylists here for various treatments, however this was the first time i got a haircut here. He showed me how to wear it curly with minimal fuss - even easier than flat ironing and just one product i need to use. Love it! He helped maintain the length and accommodate all my requests- trim off split ends, keep it as long as possible, i need to be able to tie it up, wear it both straight and curly - he got it all. Super efficient and really nice. Booking an appointment was a breeze though his calendar gets filled pretty quickly. The rest of the staff were wonderful too.

It was awful! The stuff washed right out of my hair, even though I waited four days before I got it wet. I have used other keratin treatments in the past, so I know how it should have worked on my hair. I will now only use GK hair's line since I know at least that stuff works, unlike the C grade BS I purchased here at an outrageously high price. The person who answers the phones seems to know nothing about what products you guys use (did NOT and could NOT give the name of the company/line the product belonged to - NOT knowledgeable and that should have been my first clue to avoid this place). I would say to anybody thinking about stepping into the Salon - RUN AWAY it is a HUGE waste of money (this is for the keratin treatment only). The stylist would not even trim ends at the end of processing the treatment, which is STANDARD PRACTICE at any decent salon. Oh, she would do it for an additional $50.00. So basically, $400.00 down the drain. Never EVER would I return. I should yelp to save other people from losing their money here.

Jenn was wonderful. She is very skilled and, even more than that, she asks questions and listens to what you want. I appreciated this very much. In my long life I've had a hard time finding anyone who knows how to cut my very coarse, curly hair and feel panicked when I go to a salon. I feel tremendous relief in finding Jenn and your salon. Many thanks to her and you all!

I had my first cut recently after reading the reviews... Somewhat disappointed because I went from layers that blended in with my hair to a layer that is short and noticeable that goes around my head like a shelf. If I mess up my hair with my fingers it kind of blends in, but still noticeable to me especially. Seems like a beginner mistake for someone that is supposed to be one of the best stylists at Vasuda. Debating whether to return. May be willing to give them one more chance.

The cut was good which is why the rating is 3 stars. However, no one acknowledged my arrival at Vasuda for 15 minutes, i wasn't offered water or even a hello. When I met with the stylist my consultation felt judgmental and unfriendly. I spent a lot energy just trying to get my stylist to smile at me. Yes, I have a hard time figuring out what to do with my curly hair, but the lack of sympathy and negative undertone to the conversation was definitely NOT what I came in to pay $55 for. I will not be back. I can spend this much money for nicer service and get just as good a cut.

★★★☆☆ by Michelle Rochilly on 2014-08-14

I came in last week (8/6/2014) to get a keratin hair treatment and was charged 325$, Left a 48$ tip, plus the must use shampoos and conditioner the price went 450$. For the price that I am charged, I would expect a much better service. Loved the ambience of the salon and super friendly receptionist. My hairdresser (Linda) was polite, but was not very friendly. She was very matter of the fact and from what I captured, was not eager to please. She was knowledgeable, but not very accommodating, and inflexible towards the customer's needs (more like follow her way or no way). I'm happy to know that the treatment contains 0% of formaldehyde, although I know it must contain some other form of preservative but I was psyched. The keratin treatment smelt so stained with chemicals, it stung my eyes so bad, i was literally crying. To my surprise instead of trying to be accommodating she only said yes it can sting a bit and that's because I kept having my head down. I have to say this is one of the worst experience with a hairdresser at a salon: no small talks whatsoever, only factually explaining the treatment. I figured I'd pay the 48$ tip cause I thought she looked confident and knowledgeable, and she looked like she know what she was doing and that I've used 2.5 hours of her time despite the only semi pleasant experience. The result was DISAPPOINTING. My hair was fine hair to begin with, so I would expect after the treatment it would me a whole load more manageable and smoother. After following the instructions of keeping my perfectly flat ironed hair and not washing it for 3 days which is a big no no for me, my hair was not what I expected at all. It did become smoother but only a bit, and my hair still has significant tangles!! In addition, my hair roots seems to be always oily most of the time now, which is gross. I have to say this is really not worth my money, both the treatment and the service (made me wanna come home instead of relaxing at the salon, which is very unusual). But I looked at the other guests that day and their hairdressers seem to be very pleasant and the guests overjoyed. All I wanted was great hair and a relaxing experience, which seems like too much to ask. I don't know if Vasuda is just having a bad day that day (I'm seeing all good reviews here so I was surprised), but this was my first visit and I would not come here again. For spending 450$, I would expect better results. I am just hoping that I could get a refund.

Brooke gets 5 stars! But the service at check out once again made a mistake. I was to have a credit for a haircut I didn't receive 2 appointments ago and when I told the guy at the front desk, I wasn't credited the amount Jessica said I would be. Really frustrated that Vasuda can't get it together enough to charge the proper amount. If I find another hair salon it certainly won't be because of Brooke.

I am very, VERY picky about who cuts my hair. My hair, like me, is mixed, with a majority being 3B, but ranging in spots from 3A to 3C, and the spots above my ears are closer to 2C! Anyway, Emmett had cut my hair on my previous visits, and I had a difficult situation going in this time with a big tangle that needed to be cut out, and my hair needed to be cut short. I chose Linda based on her profile, and could not be happier. She was very understanding of my situation - I was wildly embarrassed, almost shameful, but she attacked it with courage and empathy, and made me feel very comfortable. Her attention to detail and confidence settled my nerves as soon as she got to it. This is the SHORTEST I have ever had m haircut, and I'm thrilled with the results! I've gotten nothing but complements of the best kind - shocked smiles :) I can't thank Vasuda for all they've done for me. Incredible stylists and employees, I'll be going back for a long time!

Went in for a hair cut and the stylist did a good job. I went a week later for the touch up trim and I am satisfied with the results. It was the first time the stylist cut my hair so she understood its complexity relatively quickly (I have 3C/4A patterns). Also, my hair in general was dry and damaged due to extensive styling with heat (flat iron, curler, blow dryer, etc). I would recommend this place and stylist to a friend.

I love the ease of making an appointment and the location. I've come to your salon on three occasions now and only one instance I was completely satisfied with my hair. Erica is a great stylist. Easy to work with and my trim and blow out was fantastic. I do not think I'm confusing your brand of a salon that does multi-cultural hair. I am African American and I have natural hair (no chemical). I find the services limited. Delicia administered a semi-permanent color on my hair and in 1 1/2 weeks i had gray edges again. Moreover, I wasn't able to get the cut and the process of blow drying my hair and flat ironing it took double the time when Erica executed the same style. Linda is great and I believe is knowledgeable but I do not feel confident than anyone in your salon really have great experience with Flexi-rods or a rod set for nature hair. Everyone is professional and your pricing is competitive. I just want more options than a blow-out or hair extensions.

Hi Vasuda staff & owner/management, Your stylists are awesome! My only issue was that arrogant young man who walked in with his girlfriend/wife and for whatever reason refused to wait his turn. The two of them came in and were standing right behind me. The arrogant man was the one who said in a rude way "you do men's hair"? Now come on! He could have looked this same info up on Vasuda's website. He knew he was being a jerk, but he didn't seem to care. I don't like it when people act like a bully. People just need to learn how to wait their turn. He is no more important than anyone else trying to get a service done. I had to say something about that. Because I've been bullied & intimidated for much of my life. Thanks all of you

End to end, pun intended, I had an absolutely delightful experience at the Downtown Vasuda location, from the lovely receptionist who checked me in, all the way through the excellent cut and color my super-curly hair got from Erica. (Bonus: I don't think I've ever laughed so hard/had so much fun during a salon appointment.)

nice and the woman that did it was amazing - liked her very much, however I haven't left a salon unhappy in years. This was my first visit here and I have an appointment to fix it. After it's 'fixed' it will determine if I will come back... Otherwise, service was nice - people were nice!

Vasuda is my new salon! I recently had surgery that doesn't allow me to lift my arms above my head for a few weeks, so I needed help washing my hair. Vasuda squeezed me in the very day I called, and literally just hours later I met with Jenn (North Seattle location) who did a fabulous job cleaning and drying my curly mop. As a "curly girl" I've experienced a lifetime of disappointment with hair salons, so finding Vasuda... who are clearly curl experts... has been kind of a miracle! I need not worry about frizzy bad hair ever again! I actually look forward to going back for a cut in the near future, something that has always been a scary experience for me in the past. Thanks, Vasuda and Jenn!

After getting a very unsatisfactory haircut from a stylist who said she knew how to cut curly hair I was lucky enough to find Vasuda Salon. I read the bios of the stylists and knew I wanted to see Emmett Henley. His vast experience and education bespoke a stylist with flair and lots of know how. I wasn't disappointed as he soon had my curly back back in business again! Emmett definitely knows how to cut and style curly hair and I look forward to working with him long term. If you have curly hair and have been the victim of stylists who just don't know how to cut & style it then you must get yourself an appointment with Emmett. His vision, his skills and his patience will impress you. You will be delighted (and relieved) that you made an appointment with him at the fabulous Vasuda salon.

I'm so excited about this hair salon, you have no idea. Why you ask. Well, clean and professional can be assumed at the front door. I never even worry about it. That said, I have a compromised immune system, so I ALWAYS think about that, but it's not an issue at all. This place is posh without being stuffy. The staff are chill and friendly. They are incredibly sweet. I get tea and a warm welcome at the door every time. I've been there many times, weekends and weekdays and I've never seen anyone unhappy with their new look. All this and I haven't even mentioned the BEST PARTS! 1. I'm a woman of African decent with long locs. I get great service at fabulous prices at Vasuda. This salon is not interested in gouging their customers, refreshing for a person who sports natural black hair in Seattle. 2. Georgena, my stylist is so lovely, innovative talented smart professional timely... What can I say? She's fabu! 3. Vasuda does not limit their range of talent to African American hair. I've seen everyone, from every ethnic/ racial background walk out of there with smiles on their faces looking razor shhharp! I tell everyone and now I'm telling you. This place is the best!

Henry, the front desk person, was not very friendly at all and was unpleasant to deal with. He's the reason why I would hesitate to go back. The owners of the Salon should address his attitude towards clients, most specially first time clients. He's the first one they deal with and with a poor customer he provides, I'm not too sure if you'll have a lot of returning first time costumer. Henry acts as if he doesn't want to be there and it manifest by how he treats the customers. I saw how he chose to be nice some clients but not to others he dislike. Front desk person's job play a great significant role when it comes to first impression and how clients are treated. However, Tommy, hair stylist, was great and made us feel welcome. We would choose him again IF we do decide to come back to have any services done. But it's a pain if we have to deal with Henry. It might not be worth it. I would not recommend Vasuda to any of my friend because of how we were treated by Henry.

Overall the experience was good. I would give it a 3.5/5 rating Greeting: I was greeted when I walked in the door, everyone was very friendly, I appreciated the team. There's no complaint here - 4/5 Hair Wash: I had my hair washed by an assistant, I didnt feel like the wash was thorough, but it did take an unusually long amount of time. I felt like perhaps this was a stalling tactic, since my stylist was running late. The hair wash could have been better and - 2.5/5 Styling: I enjoyed how gentle this was, I didnt feel like my hair was not stressed at all. I didn't feel like I left with a finished hairstyle, the style was better day 2 when the curls had dropped. 3.5/5 Overall: I'll definitely come back. Overall I like the salon. I look forward to the experience improving as I get to know the stylists. I wouldn't agree to an assistant washing my hair in the future. -3.5/5

This salon is great. It is so difficult finding a salon/ stylist who knows how to cut very curly hair. I had a hair cut with Erica, and she listened to what I wanted and added her own touch to the cut, and it turned out great! I will recommend this salon to everyone I know who has curly hair.

words cannot express my absolutely best hair salon i have ever went to everybody is so nice and professional. and my hairdresser Erica (Dior) is a very good hairdresser a genius gifted when it comes to hair and in my opinion she is better than Kim Kimble ( no offense Kim just saying). I feel like my hair is better than it has ever been. Thank You Vasuda Salon for being that special salon.

I really want to like this salon. It's relatively close to my home, has a relaxing atmosphere, and has gotten rave reviews elsewhere. On both of my visits I've left disappointed, especially in my hair color. I wanted a super chunky foil with a lot of color contrast. I've been verbally specific about what I want (as well as what I don't want), have provided several pictures of the width of the streaks as well as the level of contrast. Overall I sense a reluctance to do this type of hair coloring. I've been told what I want is "dated" or that it won't look "natural", when I have stated that I don't want a natural, or blended look. It's disappointing to spend close to $150 for a cut, color and tip, then to leave dissatisfied. I feel that Vasuda has a signature look for both their cut and color and that is what the customer gets regardless of what they go in wanting. The stylist did offer to put in a few more foils on my follow-up trim, which I appreciate.

The customer service is great! The attitude of my stylist was good. However she seems need more practice. It took me three and a half hours to get hair colored and a bang cut, which usually only took me 2 hours at other hair salons. Moreover, I was charged $30 (or $35) for hair cut service. I am not sure about this because I only got a bang cut and very little trim, no material hair cut at all. I was a little disappointed this time.

Even though I live on the East Coast now, I only get my hair cut with Emmett at Vasuda, whenever I come to Seattle to visit my parents. When I came home this week, Emmett was booked solid, but Jessica and Emmett opened the salon early so I could get a haircut. They are both incredibly kind and generous. I trust Emmett completely with my hair, and always have superb haircuts from him (and I've had bad hair cuts across the States, including New York, supposedly the land of talented hair cutters). Cutting curly hair well is quite the gift! Emmett's wife, Jessica, is wonderful--very professional, yet open and personal, and I love catching up with her. The two of them drove out to Port Townsend this past summer to do my hair and makeup for my wedding, and it was such a gift to have them there. Vasuda Salon is the best, hands down.

This was my second visit to Vasuda. On my first visit about 5 months ago my stylist was 25 minutes late to my appointment, causing me to be late to the engagement I was headed to after. This time my stylist was double-booked and doing my hair at the same time as somebody else's. Both times I've been to Vasuda my haircut has been cut fine, and both stylists were nice and friendly, but paying for a nice haircut is not a trivial expense for me and I would just like better service. The stylist being late and the other one cutting my hair at the same time as another person's makes me feel like I am a low priority to them.

Vasuda is getting a 3 star not because of my stylist Linda who was amazing but the fact that I had my hair washed with ice cold water! It seemed that for some reason there's no hot water on Saturday evenings in their Belltown location and that is unacceptable. Especially given the fact that they've known about this issue for some time now. Heat up some water in a tea kettle or something! Last Saturday was a very cold day and I had a relaxer done, which means tons of washing and every time the water hit my scalp, I shivered. I was covered in goosebumps by the end of the shampoo session. I couldn't complain because I felt it would make my stylist feel bad and it wasn't her fault. She did an excellent job as the stylist I use at their Northgate location do. In fact, I'll use her for all my relaxer sessions going forward (If they have hot water that is!)

This was my first visit to Vasuda. Front desk person was attentive and helpful. Thomas first spent some time looking, feeling, examining my hair and scalp. He then sat down in a chair next to me to ask the questions about what I wanted, shape, length, how I took care of my hair, what products I used. That was a lovely treat. The questions have been asked before but always with the hairdresser standing above me. This was so more personal. Thomas also took his time with the actual cutting. He intermittently seemed to pause to make certain he was making the right cut. Of course I waited a day to review until I had a chance to shower and then do my hair myself. The cut is great, exactly what I wanted. Thanks Thomas. I will be back. I gave a rating of 4 stars because after my shampoo, there were no dry towels. I heard someone say they were all in the dryer. How is that possible? I sat waiting for the dry towel. It was uncomfortable and unnecessary.

I always have had an excellent experience at your salon. My hair has always been difficult when it comes to a good cut for naturally curly hair. Emmett is wonderful. Due to unexpected circumstances, my hair was thinning. He knows exactly the right product to recommend. The bang trim/touch up services is an exceptional perk.

This was my first visit to Vasuda salon. My appointment was with Erica. I loved that the salon did not have a bit of pretension and that everyone seemed quite happy to be working there. Erica was wonderful and got right to work on my hair. She did a great cut and was very generous with helpful tips on how to keep it looking the way she styled it. The receptionist was extremely friendly and welcoming. I also liked that there was no pressure to buy product but when I asked what (if any) would be helpful it was shown to me and I was left to make the decision. Great place, great people, great service. Thank you!

Thank you so much to Erica C. for her genuine and knowledgeable service! I am wanting to grow my hair out and have been antsy about the process. Erica explained to me what services I needed as well as giving me advice with at-home hair care. She also showed me how to style my hair as it grows out. I left the salon not only feeling good but also informed and empowered (and with a much needed bottle of Davines shampoo:). I am impressed with Vasuda every time I come. I hope Vasuda continues to be a salon staple here in the Northwest (in other words, don't go anywhere:)

I have not actually been to the salon, so this review is just in my experience booking the appointment and interacting with co-owner Jessica. I booked my appointment online and filled out a contact form asking about what kind of straighteners they used. I was pleasantly surprised to get a call from Jessica a couple of days later to discuss it. Unfortunately, we only focused on the Affirm Sensitive Scalp Relaxer because I mentioned money was a concern. A few days later, I began thinking that I wanted to make the best decision, and not focus on the money. I have a foot and a half of 3c hair that has never had a relaxer and I didn't want to just rush in and let money be the deciding factor. So I sent another request through the contact form, this time addressed to Jessica, saying that I would like to discuss the other straighteners to make sure I was making the best decision. Mind you, this could have made that appointment go from a $145 appointment all the way up to $800, depending on what options she gave me and what decision I ultimately made. I sent the request Saturday night or Sunday morning - I can't remember which. And my appointment was for Wednesday. Well, this time I never got a call from Jessica. The day of the appointment came and I just didn't feel comfortable going in there without having all the facts about my options. I like to know before I get there what service I'm getting and how much it will be. I like to research what I'm getting as well. Call me anal, but I've been burned in the past and it's my hair that I have to live with after the fact. Without having the chance to discuss my options with her made me feel like I might be rushed with the stylist when I got there, and I don't want to be rushed in making a permanent decision. So, I canceled my 5pm appointment around 2pm the same day - I had waited because I was hoping she would call that morning but she didn't. I was charged $72 for the missed appointment. Now, mind you, they didn't have my credit card because I've never been there, so I could have just not given it to them, but I did because it's the right thing to do. I would have been a brand new client for Vasuda and I did not like that my request for information was ignored. I was very disappointed that attention was given to ensure I was charged $72 for a missed appointment, but not to return my request to talk about services before I arrived for my appointment. If I'm not even a customer yet and can't get a call back, then how will they treat me once I become a customer? I was also surprised that I was charged $72 based on my reason that I was canceling because I never got a call from Jessica to discuss my options and did not want to rush into straightening my hair without all the information first. Effectually, this made me feel like they cared more about paying their stylist for a missed appointment, than generating new business that could last a lifetime. I'm not planning on rescheduling because this experience has left me feeling very used and resentful. This was a lousy experience and I think future customers should be aware of it.

Everyone in the salon was quite amiable and really listened to my questions and concerns. The salon itself is very nice and clean. I've never met a stylist who could do my hair even remotely as well as my favorite stylist back in my Michigan hometown--until now. Irene came closer than anyone to achieving that same silky-smooth, bouncy style for my kinky hair. She was also super-nice and easy to talk to. She's very vivacious and energetic. Jenn did my eyebrows, and they came out great! She even filled them in for me at no extra charge. Since it was my first time at the salon, and since I am new to Seattle itself, I left early so I could make sure I arrived on time (I like to be punctual!) And even though I was like 25 minutes early, they started working on me anyway and even apologized for the few minutes I had to wait (Irene was in a meeting when I got there). I was offered water or hot tea, they offered to take my coat and umbrella, etc. I could go on. They are very accommodating, and their online appointment system is the best I have ever seen. I HIGHLY recommend visiting Vasuda. I am also going to try Emmett (I've heard he does wonders on African-American hair) just to compare him to Irene, but I was definitely satisfied with Irene's work and with her warm and welcoming personality.

I have to say, I was expecting a much better experience. I wasn't wowed by my practitioner, nor the general feeling of the space. Her presence wasn't very engaging, she did not seem to have a full knowledge of the product line and even used the Mask product on me even though I'd specifically asked for the New Color Line, given that it's the less ammonia-based one. I felt very welcomed by the front desk staff but didn't have the same warmth extended by my designer. I had also asked for the Glorifying treatment to be added to the color (something they always did at the previous salon I've gone to in Bellevue) and she said she had never heard of it. I did check out the 'presence' of a few other designers there and feel that if I do return, I might try out Jen. She seemed much warmer and more present to be able to listen to details I ask for and prefer. My designer almost seemed like she was preoccupied with other things more important than my treatment. I adore the Davines line, which is why I drove all the way downtown. Your price point is quite a bit less than Rosaline Hampton Salon, which is where I've been going. It dawns on me now that, given the parking, time and less-than-professional serves I received, it may serve me better to simply return to Rosaline's and know the quality of work I'll be receiving. I have a healing arts practice in Kirkland to which I welcome many women who color their hair and who want organic everything in their bodycare. I've been scouting for a place to refer everyone, since my designer just returned to LA from Rosaline's salon in Bellevue. Sadly, I would not feel comfortable referring people to your salon. I am hoping that, if I can budget the time once more to try Jen out, my next experience will be much better. Thank you for this opportunity to share my experience. That is a classy service to offer.

Izzy was great. She talk to my daughter and made sure my daughter was happy with her hair cut. My daughter told Izzy to cut her more, but realize her bang was too short. This was not Izzy fault but Izzy felt bad when my daughter started to cry. Izzy gave us a discount. I was very sweet of Izzy. I told my daughter Izzy did a great job and she need to get a picture of a hair cut to show to the stylist. My daughter agreed after she calmed down at home and saw how beautiful hair cut looked. I will return to Izzy and have my daughter bring a picture of a hair style. Izzy thank you for being a great stylist and compassionate to my daughter's needs. I am sorry my daughter made you feel bad about the cut. She will return and bring a picture, so she can have a better experience.

Emmett is amazingly talented, especially when it comes to difficult hair. My only complaint would be with time management. I feel like every time he is either running late, or the service takes longer than anticipated and then I am rushed out. I don't know if I have exceptionally difficult hair that needs more time allotted, but if so, it should be noted so that I don't feel rushed. This past visit, I really needed more de-bulking, but didn't have a chance to really assess it, as my 2 hour parking was up for a service I was told would take 1.5 hours. I left and later realized I didn't even make a touch-up appointment. :(

I am sorry but I was terribly unhappy with my cut and color. I actually went to another salon on Sunday to "fix" the terribly uneven and crazy haircut. My husband actually had to ask me if I colored my hair. I think your salon looks great but I was not happy with my hair, I actually cried when I got home. I was also not happy to find out that my stylist has very little experience and was only just a recent graduate, that should be advertised. I won't be coming back.

I read so many great reviews on Vasuda on Yelp. As I have been looking for a hair salon for almost a year now. I would wait almost every three months and go back to the south where my hair dresser was. Well that was short lived so after almost a year of researching places in Seattle I ran across Vasuda again. This time I said a try. First of all this place is so chic just like the people in it. Lovely atmosphere.. Now my stylist Celeste Was The Bomb dot Com! She styled and cut my hair so nice that a lady from the outside of the salon walking by looked in and came into the salon just get her business card. The cut and experience was exemplary... I am SO HAPPY I FINALLY WENT IN!!

As a newcomer to Seattle, I was worried about finding a salon that could work with my course, dry hair. After doing some research and reading about Vasuda Salon, I knew I had to try it. I'm happy to say that I had a wonderful experience from start to finish. The receptionist was very friendly and offered me tea and water as well as something to read. Even during my appointment she checked in on me. My stylist, Irene, was fantastic! She was friendly and listened to my concerns and requests without being rudely imposing. Vasuda was wonderful! I've always struggled with my curls - and finding someone to cut them. When I went in, I was nervous about losing almost a foot of hair, but my stylist was extremely knowledgeable and helpful. She made suggestions and tweaks to the cut I wanted so it came out better than I could ever imagine! She also turned me on to the Deva hair care line.... It's a must have! My hair has never been shinier, bouncier, and so touchable. No more refraining from touching my curls so they don't fall flat halfway through the day. I'd highly recommend anyone with curly hair to go here. You won't be sorry!

I was referred to Vasuda from a friend of mixed racial and ethnic heritage. Her hair can be challenging to address in Seattle where there are more places that maintain white hair locs, than there are black hair locs. My friend who does not wear locs also looked so beautiful, I had to try her salon. I was impressed from the start. I made an appointment, very easy and accommodating. Met Alma, the natural hair specialist; she's lovely and professional. She shampooed my hair and maintained my locs, total pro. Unlike other salons in Seattle, there was no crazy up charge for my having lots of hair or for the length of it, both of which are irrelevant to maintaining mature locs. Not only that but Alma said it would take 1.30min to twist my locs. It took 1hr20min, perfect! I received a warm welcome and yummy tea at the door. It was a pleasure to schedule my next appointment as I left. Vasuda has created a lovely balance between a professional and personable atmosphere. There was no pretentious hyper cowing to my every need and my hair looks fabu so, I'm hooked!

I've recently started having my hair done at Vasuda Salon for a different experience. Vasuda is professional and the service is great from the time you walk in. They offer coffee, water or tea and the wait to sit in the stylist chair has not been over ten minutes. Once in the chair the stylist (Erica) devotes her time to me, she is not working on two or three people at the same time. On my last visit for maintenance and styling I was in and out in an hour. Although Vasuda is a little more expensive than places I've been to in the past the exceptional service is worth it! Keep it up Vasuda!

I saw Delicia this past week for the first time. The salon is very clean and friendly? Delicia is a Very nice girl. We had a good discussion on how I wanted my hair cut and she took the time to clarify how she would approach the cut. It was a pretty simple bob and it sounded like she understood. Unfortunately the end result really wasn't what I asked for. Not to say she didn't do a good job of the cut -- just not quite what I asked for. The layers in the back weren't right but, fortunately, I was able to correct it. Probably will be looking for another stylist for next time.

My first visit with Alma was wonderful!! I have been to my share of full service salons. I have had positive results and disappointing results. What made my visit with Alma so special was the personal one on one consultation before she even started on my hair. I have never had anyone address all of my concerns, while educating me on ways we can remedy each one. She listened to me, and that meant a lot. I did not feel like a client. I felt like a student being taught how to treat my specific hair needs. I have had a love/hate relationship with my hair this past year. Great friendly people who made me very comfortable. I was getting a lot of thick hair cut off and Matt never once made me feel like he wasn't up to the task. I had fun chatting with everyone and the end result was beautiful. It was one of the only times I didn't have the urge to run home after a haircut and wash and restyle my hair the right way. I looked hot!

I am glad to have found a salon in Seattle that is reasonably priced with skilled stylists. Irene did an excellent job w/ my hair, washing and styling it faster than I have ever had it done before. From her getting me in the lobby to me walking out it was only 1hr! This is amazing considering my natural, longer length hair....this would easily be a 2.5hr appt at other salons that I have visited. My appt started a little later than I had scheduled but I was kept informed of the delay. Overall, a great experience!

Alma was the hair professional that took care of me. She was on time and gave me several options for my hair and made a recommendations. I was very impressed with her professionalism and warmth. I am very happy to have Vasuda in my neighborhood. I no longer have to travel over 10 miles to get my hair done. The shop is gorgeous and very eclectic. Location is fine and parking is not really a problem. Alma and the staff have a customer for life. Thank You Very Much. Muchas Gracias.

Went to Delicia a couple of days ago. I signed up for color and a hair cut but she misread what I requested and we only had time for my color. I really wanted to like this place but every ten minutes she would ask the other stylists what time it was and said that I needed to be out by a certain time so I definitely felt rushed. $90 is A LOT for just color too..

I love Vasuda Salon, but I got my hair cut recently by who I believe to be a new stylist and my hair was styled very basically for what I expected. It was still frizzy by the end of my flat iron and I had to ask for a mist at the end to at least help. The cut was OK. I would have loved to see more creativity. I love Vasuda, but it really depends on the stylist you book.

As usual Emmett worked his magic on my curls, which I straightened for decades before coming to him. I got a cut and Balayage color this time. I usually only get cuts but I trust Emmett to do whatever he likes with my hair & he suggested color so I said, "Sure!" He could probably suggest robbing a bank & I'd do it. Anyway, I look younger with the lighter color and I'm pretty sure I can now walk on water & divide by zero. I am, ahem, shall we say on the wrong side of 40 (ok 50) and I got asked out by a cute 26 year old last night and I dont have implants (tooth or breast), so it MUST be the hair. I recommend letting Emmett dowhatever he damn well pleases with your hair. You will not be sorry. Also, Izzy did the styling and conditioning & she was great, too.

Irene gave us a thorough consultation on how to deal with curly hair (combing, styling) that has already paid off. She was great in putting forth that my 9-year-old just needs to be a kid and not spend hours on her hair everyday. She talked to my daughter about embracing her curls and her unique beauty. The salon/hair cut was excellent; they were lovely at the front desk and Irene took her time to connect with us and answer my daughter's questions. She made me feel as though there is hope for my hair for growth and to make it healthy. And to top it all off, I was seen at my appointment time, the appointment did not take all day (1.5 hrs), and I did not have to sign over my entire paycheck at the end of my visit. My daughter has mixed hair that can be very hard to tame. I googled 'mixed hair salons' and Vasuda came up. Naturally I read the reviews, which were all positive, so I booked an appointment online (very convenient btw). The staff there were super friendly and very patient with my daughter as she tended to cry and squirm around in the chair. I appreciated the advice our stylist, Jen gave me so I can properly take care of my daughters hair. The cut and style was beyond what I expected. My daughter actually had super cute ringlet curls in a super cute stylish bob! i finally got the right tips from a real stylist on how to properly tame my daughters hair! :) :) The products they used were for sale at the store so of course I bought them to do the same style at home. All in all I was very pleased with the service, price, care and treatment from this salon. I will for sure continue to bring my daughter here. Thank u!!

I have been to many Black salons in my life. I had never been out in less than a few hours. I had my first visit to Vesuda on April 16 for a keratin treatment. I have natural hair, so I want sure how it would turn out.... well... it was great! My second visit was a few weeks ago. I didn't have to wait to see my stylist, Erica. She wasn't double booked like at some salons. I was given a cup of hot tea to sip on too! The awesome thing is that I was only in the salon for a little over an hour... I've never been out of a salon that fast!

Emmett is a genius with curls. He handles my baby fine curly/wavy hair and my sister-in-law's coarse thick curls and my friend's fractal curls. I had straightened my hair for years because I didn't know what to do with it, but the combination of the book "Curly Girl" and Emmett Henley have made it so I haven't used my flat iron since coming to see him in October. I get compliments every day on my curls.

I am elated with what she did and look forward to a long history with her. So my recommendation is if you have curly/wavy hair and are considering Vasuda and Irene (and probably anyone else there), don't hesitate any longer.....make the appointment.

Matt is always wonderful. He is professional, but fun. It is obvious that he really loves what he is doing, and works hard to get the client's hair perfect. It is obviously more than a job, but art to him. My hair is not curly, but has a bit of a mind of its own, but he adapts beautifully and I have never been disappointed with the results! The entire experience with him, and with the salon, and the entire staff in general is always fantastic. Just met Courtney (sp?) who is new, but seems to also love and be excited about her work. She made check in and out a lot of fun, and I am looking forward to seeing her around next time I come by!

I read all the great reviews before my appointment so had high hopes and expectations (once again) about the salon and Irene but this time I was not let down in the least. Irene was phenomenal. She is very bold and confident in her knowledge, skills and abilities yet she listens intently to the client in a desire to get down to what the client is looking for and comfortable with. When I made the appointment over the phone, the receptionist (RayAnne?) was very warm, friendly and helpful. And when I got to the salon, she was even more so in person. So, in a very, very, very long search for a decent wavy/curly haircut, I have a feeling I will be with Irene and Vasuda for a long time. And I have to reiterate that I've been searching for a long time, trying different stylists/salons and have gone to some with outstanding reviews (went to salon/stylist in town a couple of years ago who got only a handful of negative reviews out of 200+ reviews and gave him 2 tries, but my hair came out AWFUL!). So my recommendation is give Vasuda a try. I doubt you'll be sorry.

I have been a fan of Vasuda since my first visit. I went in to get my color touched up and a cut. Once again Erica did an amazing job!! I wanted a medium length cut with layers and it turned out absolutely gorgeous. In addition I love Vasuda because they don't try and force sell you a product every appointment. On this trip Erica was telling me how great Ol oil is not greasy, heavy etc. & this relaxing fluid defining cream & she used them on my hair amazing stuff. I bought them both & am so glad she mentioned them the Ol oil is great and does everything she said it would. I have thick naturally curly hair and Ol oil doesn't leave my hair looking greasy or over oily. It adds a soft shine & picks me up to my hair and I love it.

I had my hair colored. There were numerous issues. 1) No one asked me AT ALL what I am allergic too, which would be chamomile and lavender. Something used on my hair must have had one of these because as soon as the cream hit my skin, it itched and sure enough that night after I had walked around with my hair down, my face had broken out in a rash. 2) I was quoted one price and charged another, ALMOST DOUBLE. And though I have speculations on the reason no one ever told me WHY I was being charged more. 3) The color my hair was dyed is not the color I wanted. Though I'm learning to deal with it, it's not even the color I picked from the swatches in the salon. 4) 2 people were at my consultation; however, someone else did my hair. Maybe the reason why there were so many issues were because the person doing my hair DIDN'T EVEN REALLY KNOW WHAT I WANTED. And why should they have, they weren't there for the consultation. 5) However knowing that, the stylist should have checked to see how I wanted my hair, and checked the color, (and allergies). 6) The stylist didn't speak to me at all. I don't have to be friends with them, but I at least hope that the person will tell me what they are doing to me. For a service industry establishment, the communication seemed so poor and thus, the service suffered greatly. I'm just glad I'm moving to California where I KNOW my hair will be done the color I PICK in the salon.

I found my experience with both the color and the haircut to be great. Mr. Henley was a fount of knowledge about curly hair as well as hair treatments to encourage the curls. He is indeed an educator. My hair looks great and the color, I believe he went a shade lighter than my previous colorist, brings out more highlights in a natural way.

Got a highlight and trim of my thick wavy hair with Matt Lawrence - I brought photos in and he quickly had specific color ideas which he shared and we decided on a course of action - - - he did the most amazing job skillfully blending in the new color highlights (I made it clear I was against having obvious root grow-out). He has amazing technique and skill and made my highlights look unbelievably natural like I'd been in the sun all summer, not like I got bleached stripes in my hair. He also gave me a little trim perfectly taming my sometimes way-too-big hair into a great shape without taking too much off. (I swear he barely touched it and it was amazingly better. Magic I say.) The color ended up coming out a bit more toned-down than I had hoped... but I called back the next day and was able to come in again for a touch up the following day with Matt and he shined it up:) He was charming, fun, communicative and receptive to feedback, gave great tips on hair care and left me with gorgeous gorgeous locks! Oh and did I mention he has a magic touch?? Really, everyone I encountered at Vasuda was very friendly, sweet and attentive. Would definitely recommend Matt and Vasuda Salon! Great place!!

After months of online research, I kept coming up with Emmet and Vasuda Salon in the search results. Figured I'd give them a try and I am so happy with the results. Have a very stylish hair cut that makes my curls look healthy and bouncy, yet chic. Love the new do! Have a second appointment scheduled for some highlights. So happy to have finally found a salon and stylist that know how to deal with my crazy curls. Because of Emmet's great cut and styling tips, I have a newfound love for my hair. Irene took time to listen to my concerns and told me what she was doing at each step. As a naturally curly girl, my expectations for haircuts are fairly low. She took only a bit of length off and shaped my hair so it has great style now. The products she recommended work very well and she wasn't pushy about selling them. I really hate doing my own hair; it's thick and curly, just too much. At Vasuda I usually get my hair flat ironed just to keep things simple during the work week when it comes to doing my own hair. Anyway, my guy Matt washes my hair (and it feels really relaxing) he also blow-dries, and straightens it. He's a sweetheart and when I leave the salon I feel pretty. I have met various staff members and they are all tredo and experienced with all types of hair. Ladies don't spend your valuable time doing your own hair, go to Vasuda. I personally see Emmett, I have what I think is hard to cut hair and he just gets it right.....My daughter has that the same curly hair only longer. MATHEW cut her hair and did a really great job, I just loved it and she is over the moon happy with her cut.....What is even better about Mathew is he can read teen body language and looks.....My daughter is beyond picky about her bangs and he asked her if they were "ok?".....She gave me the look and then said "ummm yah"..... Mathew immediately picked up she wanted something else done....and started right in with how you would like this cut a little more or different with VISUAL CUES giving her a chance to really express what she wanted....MATHEW has sisters with curly hair and has spent his life listening to the curl issues.....I myself would see him in a pinch if Emmett were busy, he was that great AND I plan to take my son to him with his curly hair that every other stylist on the planet wants to just chop off. (he was already making a plan for him).....I AM ALWAYS HAPPY AFTER MY VISIT TO THIS SALON and I can afford to go in because it is not over the top expensive.

We brought our daughter of color and found the owner, Jessica, patient and chock-full-of knowledge. She made Nicole feel good, spent time choosing the appropriate hair, and Nicole had a special consultation. The woman made several suggestions and was friendly. My only regret is when her colleague chimed in with some suggestions. She seemed very defensive when he did so, and this was not a good idea in front of a teenager and new costumers. He was friendly, and I always appreciate additional support and suggestions. The salon is lovely, clean, and inviting. It is stylish and after a 30 minute ride, an offer of coffee was greatly appreciated. Jessica is upbeat, chic, and articulate. She knew how to communicate with my teenage daughter and has all my business! We have not even had an appointment yet. I have long hair that I usually just have all one length, cut straight across the bottom and it gets a trim about every 9 months from no one in particular. It was time for me to look for a good hairdresser since I was considering layering. I made an appointment with Irene and brought in pictures I liked and pictures I didn't like. She did a great job of putting in a few long, subtle layers that add nice movement and interest when I curl my hair. I decided that she did such a good job, that I made another appointment with her 4 months later. She is at the downtown location now, an easy bus ride from the Park and Ride. Irene gave me another great cut - probably really a trim. Even though I gave her the OK to go for a little more layering. She's easing me into it and I think my hair looks great and healthy. She added a little product, blow dryer with big round brush, and I walked out the door in under an hour with smooth hair and great body. Later that night I took a curling iron to it before I went out. Very pretty.

The best thing to ever happen to my Hair is when I met Emmit. I have been going to see Emmit for over seven years. All my Family members get their hair done at Salon Vasuda. He is consistent with his great work even as the Salon grows the only change I see is growth. More great product more Emmits (hairdressers trained my Emmit himself). I live in Renton every time I drive to Salon Vasuda has been worth it.

I am so happy to have discovered Vasuda salon! I live in Edmonds and have tried various salons in the area, most of which are much too expensive. Anyway, I have naturally wavy hair and had a hard time finding somewhere and someone who knows how to cut it, that is until I got my hair cut from Diana Han at Vasuda. She really took her time and worked with my needs and hair type. In addition, the prices are very reasonable and the salon is chic without being haughty or pretentious.

I think it's great that Vasuda is in downtown now since I can just drive there after work. I was worried about street parking, but the time I went there were lots of open spaces. I am very happy with the cut that Irene gave me as it was my last before my wedding. She listened to all my concerns and I trusted her to make the right changes based off my hair type and reason for cutting it. I'm looking forward to going to her after my wedding to start out married life with a completely new cut and color! She's definitely easy to talk to and I like how she explains why she does certain things when cutting my hair. More space than Northgate and I like the open feel with all the windows. Same friendly staff and I bought a few products that I'm really happy with so far. I love the Moroccan line for hairspray... As always, online scheduling is so convenient so I can schedule on my own without having to call. After several bad salons and cuts, I'm glad I can regularly go to a place and not feel nervous. Thanks!!

I had only one hairstylist my whole life. When it was time to make a change, while looking online for a new salon/person that fit my needs I so blessedly stumbled upon Vasuda Salon & it's owner Emmett Henley. I am very cautious & research everyone I decide to do business with-especially when it comes to something so important as my hair (I'm a Black female). I read every Vasuda Salon review on Yelp before I called to book my first appointment. It was during the busy holiday season & because Emmett is that phenomenal, I had to wait awhile to get in, but whoever said "patience is a virtue" must have known Emmett personally! The salon atmosphere is refreshing (clean/organized/well lit), Emmett's customer service is stellar (one client at a time), his skill set along with his time management are far beyond anything I've encountered (wash/style/trim in one hour), our conversations are hilarious & last, but definitely not least my favorite part of my bi-monthly visits to Vasuda- seeing Emmett's lovely wife & co-owner Jessica. They have chosen a fabulous salon staff (Irene is the brow queen) & working together they make Vasuda the best salon to be a client. If premium hair care & customer service is what you're looking for, look no further!

After a train wreck color experience at my old salon I looked for about a year for a new salon because I'm really picky and a good salon that can do my hair is not easy to find. I heard many good things about Vasuda and gave it a try...one word AMAZING! Erica was really friendly and assured me the color would be great. It was a dark plum color.I was nervous at first but it looks fantastic the complements have not stopped. Matt cut my hair, he did a wonderful job and was funny. Great experience, great staff will most certainly be going back

I've been a redhead for 30+ years, but finally decided to return to my "natural" color. Consequently, I came in to the salon with dark roots and several inches of dyed-red hair, with ends that were a couple of shades lighter from sun and natural porosity. I know this was a challenge, but I wanted hair of a uniformly dark brown. The results were very uneven: Some of my hair is a very dark brown, but from halfway down the hairshaft and around my face the hair is almost black. I look like a brunette who went black and is now growing it out. The colorist insisted that this wasn't the case, although my mirror (and my friends) confirm that some of my hair is black. I think the colorist just left the color on too long without testing, and my hair is very porous. To make matters worse, I have a natural white streak that I have very carefully avoided coloring for 20 years. The colorist wasn't so careful, and I have a large splotch of brown at the roots of my white streak now.

I always love coming to Vasuda because Emmett knows exactly how to cut and style my extremely curly hair so that it looks amazing and I get tons of compliments (even when I go home and style it myself). This week I got to have my hair cut at their new location in Belltown and it was awesome as usual. I have been having some dry scalp issues and Emmett did a moroccan oil treatment on my scalp and used all the moroccan oil styling products. My hair looked amazingly shiny after. Even after sleeping on it I had people asking me about what I had done to it the next day. Can't wait to come back!

I have lived all over the country and my biggest challenge has always been finding a someone who did a great job on African-American hair. Finally, I found when when I moved to Seattle at Vasuda. I loved the way my hair looked when I left, I appreciated that my objectives for my hair were listened to, and that the salon was just very calm and helpful. But most of all, I totally appreciated the fact that I never had to wait and I never felt that they double booked so my appointment was mine. I recently moved from Seattle to San Diego and I wish I could travel back for my hair, especially since there is a downtown location which would have been perfect because it took me an hour to get to the original location (worth it but two buses made timing difficult). You cannot go wrong with this salon and I hope their next expansion is in my new place. Best of luck.

I've been salon-hopping for the past two years now, trying to find someone to commit to and I think I found the place! A friend recommended that I see Diana Han at Vasuda and I decided to just take a risk and make an appointment with her. I have (I guess had now) long, thick Asian hair and it's been hard trying to find someone who knew how to cut it properly. Diana did an amazing job! The way she cuts her layers were on point! There's been many times where I had a hairstylist who would get lazy and just kind of go at it with my hair. What was even more amazing is that I got to the salon 30 min early and Diana still took me in early. Another plus side: They don't bombard you to buy their products. I hate it. I don't mind it when people offer and talk about what kinds of products they use, but it's awkward when you just lost 4 inches of hair and they're asking you to buy something from you. Even when I made small comments about the product, the response I received was more along the lines of, "Yeah, this is one of my favorite products." INSTEAD OF "You like it? Please buy it from me." All in all, they're great. These people make you feel comfortable and want you to enjoy your time at their salon. There's no doubt that they're skilled at what they do.

I can not say enough good about Emmett. I get more complements on my hair these days than ever. The cut is just great and easy - I can not even begin to say how happy I am with my cut. I look great and take less time to do it! ---- My hair curls nice, looks fun and it is not a mile wide. It was cut to be curly and Emmett actually styled it curly rather than trying to convince me I should blow it out. My daughter also goes to the salon and says she got by far the best cut she has ever had and will be referring her friends. The products that have been recommended are spot on - MEANING I am still happy I spent the extra for the new style products and would not want to live with out them now - I really love them. They know their products and what to do with them. I felt like they were showing me a "GOOD THING" as Martha would say ;) ALL IN ALL - WE LOVE VASUDA

I am a new customer and I had a wonderful experience with Thomas Lee. I have visited two other salons in Seattle and I have finally found a wonderful stylist. I am growing out my hair and it is dry, damaged and breaking. Thomas explained to me how he thought I should be relaxing my hair and how often he even brought Emmet over to consult. Turns out my hair has been way over processed and that was damaging my hair. Thomas took the time to listen to my concerns and devised a perfect hair care regimen for me. Thomas talked me through every step while working on my hair and checked in with me to see how I was doing on time. My relaxer did not burn one bit! When I walked out of the salon my hair was bouncy and full of life. I am confident and grateful that I have finally found a stylist to help me grow out and repair my hair. Also I should mention that when I arrived for my appt Thomas saw me right away. Many salons I have been to have you waiting on your stylist. I have natural hair and he found a healthy way to stop my frzzies. Whic smells like chocolate not to mention. I love this salon because it has a family feel. Jessica runs the salon and calls you by name to make you feel wanted. Most salon these days make you feeel like your bothering them. Or they don't know how to do my hair(which is strange when your a hairdresser :( )! Salon Vasudo has a little of everyone there and all of the sytlist can handle all hair types which I love love love. If your looking for a new salon home. I would for sure give Salon vasuda a go. Another perk that I forgot to mention "EDUCATION" they continue to receive advanced training which I couldn't ask for more. Even though my first apointment there I was taken late-I do have to say everone there is very nice and proffesional which is hard to find these days! I have had 3 diffrent stylist there (due to schedules) and two of them were fairly new from beauty school. The pricing is borderine for my budget, but definetely worth it! Highly recommend!

I have been going to Emmett for my haircuts since he was at Vain and have been incredibly pleased with the results. Curly hair can be hard to live with and he has done a phenomenal job at giving me really great, low-maintenance cuts that attract compliments all the time. Jessica is incredibly friendly, as well as the rest of the crew, which is just icing on the cake!

I have been coming to Emmett for haircuts since I found him last year, and he has not let me down. Growing up with big curly hair I had gotten used to getting bad hair cuts fairly often since not all stylists know what to do with it. Emmett is extremely knowledgeable when it comes to the products that he uses and has given me the best cuts that I could ask for. I also really like the free touch up trims!

sat with Irene and she worked magic in a short amount of time- rescued me from a bad haircut. the last time i got an angled bob the styler had to keep cutting b/c she wasn't able to keep it even. Irene was sharp and has a skilled hand.

Second time I went to Vasuda. I arrived on time, but was made to wait almost 30 minutes past the set (advance) appointment. Should have called to alert me re delay. Good hair styling, friendly atmosphere. Uncomfortable wait area. Great 4-week warranty on haircut touch-up.

Your next hair appointment is typically your next visit to the Salon. However, at Vasuda, your hair appointment becomes a totally new and refreshing styling experience! Great customer service and the energy is magnetic. Every hair stylist has there own skilled and unique way, in how they wonderfully deliver any of your hair requests & needs. Thanks for always going above and beyond what needs to be done! Just a tip to future clientele... No one can read your mind so speak out loud exactly what you would like to have done. Have a great time!!

Thomas Lee was pretty awesome! He did a great job & was a pleasure to chat with!!! So far my Japzilian treatment is looking fabulous!!! I was pretty pissed though that the price was supposed to be a balance of $50 as was stated even in my appointment confirmation email, yet I was charged $80 because "the prices went up." I absolutely should have been told beforehand!!! Truly bad form! :( Unfortunately, the surprise price hike issue left quite an impact. I probably won't be returning or referring. Oh well.

Vasuda has been an exceptional find for me here in Seattle. As a newcomer to the area, I was searching for a salon that would listen to me and my concerns while coming up with creative and innovative ideas as to how to make me look my best. Matthew is a true artist, and I am forever grateful for all that he does. Thank you, Vasuda.

I discovered Vasuda and Matt Lawrence about four months ago after my stylist disappeared. Matt is hilarious and a joy to be around. He is incredibly knowledgeable about all types of hair and wants his clients to look their very best. I love the decor and overall laid back atmosphere of this place. All the stylist and staff are genuinely nice and they don't have that pretentious heir you'll find at the other high-end salons. I also like the book online feature, it makes my life so much easier. If you're looking for a new place for your coif, I highly recommend Vasuda Salon and Matt!

As always, my experience at Vasuda was amazing. I enjoyed watching the various stylist at their stations literally transforming their clients. The gal next to me went from very curly to straight and it looked amazing and healthy. It is clear that the stylist are very experienced, continuously mentored and clients seek out their expertise. I especially appreciate the focus on my particular needs which include not only a great color and style but the health of my scalp and hair. My visit was with Thomas (first time with him) and I was very impressed with the results. Thank you.

So far, I have only been on Advanced Training Tuesday. The prices are reduced but the service is full on. From the warm welcome Jessica gives when you arrive to the her checkout at the end, the hair experience is the best -- no matter what kind of hair you have. Owner Emmett insures that every client leaves pleased and that the work done is to his satisfaction. He has encyclopedic knowlwdge of hair and infinite experience to go with it -- all of which he shares freely and with no pressure to buy or make return commitments! His is an excellent model of client service, customer engagement, and commitment to perfection for the rest of the salon stylists to follow.

I went in for my second haircut with Jenn and it was great. My hair gets kind of curly and hard to style when it starts growing out, and Jenn did a cut the last two times that makes it way easier to deal with, and makes it look tons better than it ever did. I'd recommend Jenn at Vasuda to anyone, but especially if you've got hair that is kind of hard to deal with. Thanks Jenn!

I am an African American and I am currently growing out my relaxer. I came in on Friday evening (Irene's last client)I had ALOT of tangles and matting. Irene did was very patient and gentle with my hair, making sure I was doing ok. Then Emmet came in to help out (my hair was a hot mess. He was VERY knowlegdable, encouraging and did an extremely fast but excellent job with my hair! They were both super helpful and positive. I felt comfortable and at ease. I love the vibe and culture of this salon. This salon is for everyone, everyone hair type, and ethnicity. I always leave feeling AMAZING! My hair always looks great with Vasuda's help :)

I would recommend this salon to my friends, but go on a slow day. It's not a big place and can get crowded. It would be nice if they had chairs designated for blow out and styling or color processing. I say this because you may have to move around a bit so they can move more people through. What I don't like is getting a hair cut from one person and getting styled by another. The music is current, but a little loud. Overall a great find in a city of chain salons.
